Chiang Kai-Shek On Burma Front To Aid Chinese

Counter-Offensive Against Japanese Will Be Planned Is Belief

REINFORCEMENTS COME WITH CHIEF

Generalissimo Will Join U. S. Lieut. Gen. Stilwell In Making Plans

By G. C. KARKARE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, May 7.—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has arrived on the Burma fighting front to join American Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell in planning a counter-offensive against Japan, reports reaching New Delhi said today.

Chinese reinforcements reportedly accompanied Chiang in his dramatic trip over the Burma border while other reserves were believed to have been rushed into Yunnan province to battle Japanese units pushing northeastward from Wanting.

It was believed by military observers in New Delhi that any Chinese counter-offensive aimed at salvaging something from the hitherto disastrous Burma campaign probably would be launched from Yunnan.

Fall Of Corregidor Gives New Problems To United Nations

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Capitulation of American forts in Manila bay today gave Japan almost undisputed mastery of the far Pacific and left the United Nations with the increasingly puzzling problem of regaining vast areas lost in five months of blitzkrieg warfare in oriental waters.

Considering the fact that the Nipponese now may use Manila bay as a base of operations, in addition to Singapore and Soerabaja, because of the fall of Corregidor, military and naval experts foresaw the following as possible immediate moves by the Japanese:

1—Since the Japanese now are extending their domination to all the important islands in the Philippines as rapidly as possible, the enemy may be expected to begin "cashing in" on the vast riches of the commonwealth.

2—With organized resistance virtually wiped out in the Philippines, the enemy now may use the trained forces which have been immobilized there—estimated at more than 250,-

Victim Of Fire Dies In Hospital

Louis Prato, Of Hillsville, Succumbs From Blaze Which Also Killed Wife

FIRE DESTROYED HOME APRIL 25

Louis Prato, aged 70 years, of Hillsville, who was terribly burned about the face and hands in the blaze which destroyed his home and trapped his wife in the blazing structure early in the morning on April 25, succumbed in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 10:20 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Mr. Prato was brought to the hospital in a critical condition, having been able to escape from the house along with two sons and a daughter. Both father and sons were burned, the father seriously, and he has been in a critical condition since the blaze, death ending his sufferings last night.

Funeral services for Mrs. Prato were conducted on April 26, the day following the blaze. She was unable

Registration For Sugar Cards Now Near 77,000

Holding to about the same average as they did in the first two days of sugar rationing registration, the teachers of the city and county registered 24,221 persons on Wednesday and issued them ration books.

The total for Monday and Tuesday was 52,095. The grand total for the three days is 76,316. Due to the division of names by alphabetic blocs the registration here has gone smoothly. The idea of dividing them thus was that of Clair Brown, principal of the New Bedford schools.

Apparently the registration here will go to 100,000. This does not include the men in service. From the three day total it would seem that the population of Lawrence county is over 100,000.

Go To Capital To Get Facts On Gas Situation

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 8.—Angered by what one spokesman termed "a lot of procrastinating down there in Washington,' an irate delegation of Allegheny county gasoline company officials and motor club executives was in the capital today to find out for themselves whether or not Pittsburgh will be included in the gasoline-rationing program.

The officials took with them a copy of a petition which has been circulating in western Pennsylvania, pointing out that a gasoline surplus exis's in this area. Yesterday, Congressman Samuel A. Weiss announced that western Pennsylvania would be removed from the rationing area within 24 hours.

May Authorize U. S. Seizure Of Private Autos

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 7 — Senate leaders today predicted that Congress will pass legislation authorizing the government to seize private automobiles and imposing a national 40-miles per hour speed limit.

Chief reasons advanced by high government officials for passage of such legislation, they said, is to bring home to the people the fact that automobiles and rubber cannot be wasted through pleasure driving and excessive speed. At the same time they doubted, however, that automobile seizure is likely in the immediate future.

War Bond And Stamp Sales In Schools Mount

By nickles, dimes and quarters, the total of war bonds and stamps sales in the public schools is mounting. The total to date is $17,030.55 according to Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent. Oddly enough over half of it came in March when $8638.30 worth of bonds and stamps were sold.

Each week the youngsters bring their money on appointed days and each week sees a little more ammunition for the men in the armed forces.

Over $243,759 City Tax Paid In April, Best Total In Years

Mr. Average Citizen is paying his taxes better now than for years in the opinion of City Treasurer C. C. McKibben who asserted today that a new high in city tax collection for any one month during the past seven years was reached during April when $243,759 city tax for 1942 was paid.

He added that 1941 and 1942 school taxes collected last month reached $69,539.

The treaurer also added that the 1942 city tax duplicate amounts to $535,644.56, and of this $350,952 already has been collected.

Fighting Scope Soon To Extend On Red Front

Indications Russians Are Planning Spring Offensive Of Their Own

FORESEE GREATLY INCREASED BATTLES

Hitler May Be Preparing To Launch Another Drive On Russian Front

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, May 7.—Russian armies reported new gains in the Leningrad and Kalinin areas today while belief gained ground among Moscow observers that violent fighting, approaching the scale of last summer's battles, soon will be raging in several sectors of Europe's eastern front.

An indication that the Soviet forces are planning a spring offensive of their own, in line with the recent order issued by Premier Josef Stalin, was given by the government newspaper Izvestia, which said the Red army had abandoned "active defense" for "positive offense."

Hitler May Launch Drive

Moscow heard reports that Adolf Hitler too, might be nearly ready to launch the German army's highly-advertised spring offensive. These reports, arriving from London, quoted the German radio as saying that "feverish activity" was in progress behind the Nazi battle lines on the eastern front.

"Careful preparation" is the watchword on the front as preparations proceed for "coming great battles," the German radio declared, according to the London reports.

So far as actual current fighting was concerned, however, the initiative at all key points on the long front appeared to rest with the Russians. A supplement to a communique said the Soviet forces in the Kalinin sector had killed more than a thousand Germans in two days of fighting. Over the same period, Red army units advancing below Leningrad killed 500 enemy soldiers, the report said.

Rabaul Being Reinforced By Japanese Now

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7—"Furious" reinforcement by the Japanese of Rabaul, Jap-held base on New Guinea in preparation for widespread assaults on Port Moresby was reported today by the Melbourne radio.

The Melbourne broadcast, recorded by the CBS short wave listening station in San Francisco, quoted a correspondent at an allied air base as declaring unremitting allied air attacks on Jap-held concentration points such as Rabaul and Salamaua had postponed a full-scale invasion of Port Moresby by the Nipponese.

"The correspondent adds that though continuance of our attacks might further delay the main southward Japanese thrust, they cannot stave off the attack indifinitely," the Melbourne radio said.

United States Navy Patrols At Martinique

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 7 — With relations between the United States and Vichy France at a critical stage, the American Navy today is patrolling the waters of Martinique and Guadeloupe, the two French possessions in the Caribbean.

A daily patrol of these French territorial waters is being carried out by an American warship and Naval seaplanes.

Purpose of the patrol is to watch the French warships, including an aircraft carrier and a cruiser, in the harbor at Martinique and to make sure that Axis submarines do not attempt to use either Martinique or Guadeloupe as a base of operations in the Carribbean.

Under the terms of an existing agreement with the French high commissioner of Martinique, the French warships are not supposed to leave the harbor without prior notification to this government.

In view of the strained relations with Vichy as a result of Pierre Laval's return to power and the

Capitulate At Naval Base At Diego Suarez After Two Days' Fighting

MAJOR VICTORY FOR BRITISH FORCES

Large Naval Force Took Part In Battle—To Protect Allied Nations Routes

By LEO V. DOLAN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 7.—Great Britain scored her first major victory in the far eastern theatre of war today by smashing all organized resistance and capturing the naval base of Diego Suarez at Madagascar and placing the huge Indian ocean island under British and Free French sovereignty.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill himself announced that the naval and military commanders at Antsirane who control the island's defenses had capitulated after less than 48 hours of bitter fighting.

Negotiate Surrender Terms

Negotiations are now proceeding for the terms of surrender. A huge British fleet which participated in Britain's first offensive action against a potential Japanese base of aggression will steam into Diego Suarez bay this afternoon, victory emblems flying.

"Very strong forces" of all British arms were used in the operation, planned over a period of three months, Churchill said, the object

Plan For Gas Rationing In State

Ration Cards Will Be Issued

Gasoline Supply Will Be Rationed According To Motorists' Needs

FIVE TYPES OF CARDS PLANNED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 6 — Two million Pennsylvania motorists who register for gasoline rationing cards May 12 to 14 will be classified according to their need to use an automobile, the department of public instruction said today.

The information needed to secure a ration card includes the owner's name, residence, business address, nature of work engaged in, description of motor vehicle covering make, body style, engine and vehicle number, shortest mileage from home to regular place of work if applicant drives to work, number of miles driven daily, and what effort has been made to use public transportation.

Motorists will be given one of five types of cards depending upon the purpose for which the motor vehicles are used and the average number of miles driven daily by the momotorist. The registration will cover all owners of passenger cars, inboard motor boats, motorcycles and commercial vehicles, excluding trucks and buses. The cards will remain in effect until July 1.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction, directing the registration through the schools, emphasized that the motorist must budget the gasoline used over the rationing period although it is possible to "spend all of the ration card at one time."

Persons living near the edge of rationing areas will be prohibited from purchasing un-rationed gasoline within 50 miles of the border.

3—The Nipponese may proceed to re-fortify almost at their leisure bases in the Philippines and the southwest Pacific against the anticipated counter-offensive being planned by the United States and the United Nations.

This, briefly, is the picture so far as the United Nations are concerned as the result of the sudden but not unexpecetd surrender of Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's forces on Corregidor, where an estimated 7,000 to 9,000 American-Filipino troops succumbed to superior forces.

Coming within a month after the fall of Bataan, the capitulation of Corregidor and three other Manila bay forts was a severe blow to the United Nations war effort in the Pacific and boosted to nearly 50,000 the number of American-Filipino fighting men now in enemy hands.

No further details were disclosed concerning the action in the Solomons, where the Japanese for some time have been reported sending in reinforcements to bolster the battered bases to the west on New Britain and New Guinea.

Announcement of the increased naval activity around New Britain was seen as an indication that the Japs were attempting to shunt reinforcements into the Rabaul area.

The plight of the Japanese as a result of heavy bombardment of their bases by American and Australian fliers was emphasized by reports that the concerted United Nations attacks had practically eliminated Salamaua, on New Guinea, as a useful base.

Weaken Jap Air Base

An American air force spokesman at an advanced base declared that the raids had definitely weakened Salamaua as a Jap air base. The damaging blasts were credited with decreasing the enemy air attacks against the United Nations base at Port Moresby.

"Our increased interceptor strenght around Port Moresby and the growing power of our bombing has hurt Salamaua," the spokesman said, "and also has hampered their Lae and Rabaul bases."

The stiff air opposition by the Americans and Australians undoubtedly has put a severe crimp in the Japanese plans for action against Australia.

This was disclosed today by Major Arthur J. Seiler, head of the army's industrial service division in the Philadelphia ordnance district.

LONDON, May 7 —A Tass news agency dispatch from Moscow today said 400 German soldiers mutinied after a heavy defeat on the Briansk Front and all were executed.

Corporal William F. Thompson of Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., spent four days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson of 118 Market street, New Wilmington, Pa.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Chiefs of the army, navy and air corps were called to the White House by President Roosevelt today for an important conference on war strategy in the light of latest developments on the various battlefronts.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Australian Prime Minister John Curtin was quoted today by Melbourne radio as saying that the Japanese are treating European prisoners much more harshly than natives, hoping to win native support.

"The prime minister," the broadcast said, "reported that Chinese and Indians in Hong Kong are receiving more food than Europeans and better accommodations. A reliable report says that 40 European soldiers are being made to pull rickshaws for Indians and Chinese."

The broadcast was heard in San Francisco by Columbia Broadcasting system's short wave listening station.

are known to be virtually intact despite their heavy burden of the last few weeks, although two divisions suffered considerable losses on the Toungoo and Salween fronts.

These two armies, combined with other forces still in good fighting condition and fresh reinforcements from other parts of China, could muster substantial striking power if the counter-offensive is decided upon, observers agreed.

Chiang's reported dash into Burma came in the wake of reports that the Japanese had brought up strong reinforcements, including mechanized units, apparently in an effort to liquidate the Burma campaign as speedily as possible.

Violent Fighting

Violent fighting was reported in the hills near Wanting, and Jap warplanes bombed Chinese bases at Lishui and Yushan twice in the last 24 hours.

United Nations observers in New Delhi continued to be encouraged by fresh evidence that American and British fliers have wrested control of the air over Burma from the Japanese. News of new aerial blows against Japanese bases was expected momentarily.

The Royal Air Force units in India, however, were reported en route today to the Chindwin river valley to cover the British retreat in western Burma. Myitkina was reported to be still in British hands, but the fate of Bhamo, 80 miles south, was uncertain.

Japanese units were said to be continuing their advance northeastward in Yunnan province after forging across the China border.

In India, meanwhile, preparations for anticipated Japanese patrol raids from Burma continued at a feverish pace. Naga head hunters were reported to be helping the British build strategic military roads on the northeastern frontier.

HURT IN FALL

David Witherow, youth, reportedly fell from a Lawrence Ice & Storage company trestle, where he reportedly was playing yesterday, sustained a gash on the rear of his head and had the wound closed in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

A 5,000-ton German transport was sent to the bottom by Soviet naval units operating in the Barents Sea, the report disclosed.

(London morning newspapers today said reports from the continent indicated that German plans for a large-scale offensive in Russia were virtually complete. In Stockholm it was reported that fleets of German JU-528 planes were transporting men and supplies to the Nazi "springboards" of Ghatsk, Vyazma and Rzhev, but even more intensive preparations were reported south of Kursk.)

(Observers at Ankara, Turkey, estimated that the Germans had twelve armored divisions, and 2,000,000 troops concentrated for the spring drive against Russia.)

Man Is Injured As Car Overturns

John Ferrauilo, aged 24 years, of 329 South Beaver street, suffered numerous cuts and bruises, when his automobile overturned on Route 224, near the plant of the New Castle Lime and Stone Co., just beyond Hillsville, about 11 o'clock this morning.

He was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he was admitted for treatment.

The rattles played with by babies today orginated in ancient times when it was customary to give a newborn baby a coral with bells on it to frighten away the evil spirits.

WAMPUM BRIDE-ELECT CHOOSES MAY 16 DATE

Miss Angeline Codespot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Codespot of Wampum, whose engagement to Orlando Aloe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Aloe of West Pittsburg, was announced in February, has chosen Saturday, May 16, as her wedding date. The wedding will take place at 9:30 a .m. in St. Monico church, Wampum.

As her maid of honor she will have Miss Mary Frank of Wampum, and as bridesmaids, Miss Alda Aloe, sister of the groom, and Miss Susie Cook of Wampum.

Frank Papa of West Pittsburg will act as best man, with Larry Attisone of West Pittsburg and Frank Zaccarelli of New Castle serving as ushers.

COURT STREET UNIT LUNCHEON WEDNESDAY

Court Street Unit members of Epworth Methodist church enjoyed a prettily appointed 1 o'clock luncheon on Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. Clyde Burkholder, Garfield avenue. Co-hostesses included Mrs. Frank Bower and Mrs. Philip Winter.

Places were arranged for 25 guests including members and friends, where a delectable menu was served. A social period spent informally, and a brief business discussion with President Mrs. C. Reynolds, concluded festivities.

EAGLES AUXILIARY ELECTS OFFICERS

Ladies Auxiliary to the Eagles held election of officers at their meeting on Wednesday evening in the lodge rooms. Mrs. Adaline Navarra was named president for the new year. Others are as follows:

Past worthy president, Mrs. Henry Matiste; vice president, Mrs. Grace McCracken; chaplain, Mrs. George Cowan; secretary, Mrs. Ed. Johnston; treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Shuler; trustee, Mrs. Mary Ray, Mrs. George Morrow and Mrs. Harry Stenger; inside guard, Mrs. William A. Semler; outside guard, Mrs. Frank Peterson.

A social time ensued, and it was later planned to hold their Mother's Day program and initiation of new candidates on Sunday. New Castle ladies, with Mrs. Chauncy Davis in charge, will preside, and lunch will be served. Activities will begin at 3 and husbands will be guests.

Jedema Club

Mrs. George Gilchrist of Boyles avenue, was a charming hostess, Wednesday evening when members of the Jedema club gathered in her home, Boyles avenue.

Tables of 500 were in progress, high score prizes going to Mrs. Wayne Harper and Mrs. George Gilchrist.

Blanche Renick was a special guest, on this occasion. At an appropriate hour, a delicious lunch was served in the dining room, on a nicely arranged table.

On May 20, Mrs. Wayne Harper, of Shaw street, will be hostess.

WOMAN'S BENEFIT, NO. 98 HAS BANQUET-PROGRAM

Woman's Benefit Association, Review 98, held their Mothers-Daughters banquet in their hall on Neshannock avenue, Wednesday evening, with a large number of guests in attendance.

At 6:30 o'clock, a delicious full course menu was served at tables colorfully appointed in the patriotic theme. Bouquets of the seasons flowers completed the arrangement.

While seated, the group joined in singing "America" and the invocation was offered by Rev. William Thornton. Mrs. Ira Campbell, chairman, introduced a toastmistress, Mrs. Ethel B. Thomas, who presented the participants, as follows: "Toast To Mothers" by Betty Kerr; "Toast to Daughters" by Mrs. Nell Knox; "Toast to Pioneers" by Mrs. Irene Gorley; response, Mrs. Katie Nowling; Benediction, by Rev. Thornton. Seating of officers by Captain Miss Jessie Harper and her staff of Guards. The Flag service was impressively given by Miss Anna Patterson, assisted by Miss Jessie Harper. Afterwards, caps, pins and certificates for having completed the required First Aid work, were presented to Mary Lou Brunton, Betty Flynn, Beverly Fox, Sally Lou Kurtz, Betty Kennedy, and Vivian Vogan.

Address of the evening was given by Mrs. George Bollinger, chairlady of the local Council of National Defense. Her address was appropriate to the occasion and proved inspiring. Song leader was Mrs. Rachel Reynolds and musician was Mrs. Katherine McClintock. Remarks were also contributed by Rev. William Thornton, Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. Carrie M. Brandt, the latter of Monaca who is managing deputy of Review 98 and Mrs. Hattie Nowling, president of the Pioneers. An accordion solo followed by Mary Lou Brunton and Dona Jean McClintock pleased with a vocal number with Mrs. K. McClintock, accompanist.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Carrie M. Brandt of Monaca, and Mrs. Martha Moncrief of Philadelphia.

Committee in charge composed of Mesdames Ira Campbell, Charlotte McCullough, Mattie Turner, Helen Dunlap, Anna Giltch, Ethel Thomas, Georgana Walsh and Miss Jessie Harper, Rev. Thornton offered the benediction.

Next meeting will be on May 20 with initiation of candidates.

Kardette Club

Next to entertain the Kardette club will be Mrs. Joseph Campbell of Epworth street on May 18.

The club was entertained on a recent evening by Miss Edith Rowe of Boyles avenue. In the play of cards, Mrs. Alton Gerlach, Miss Donna Gilmore and Mrs. Campbell were prize winners. A special guest was Mrs. William Coulter.

POOR COMPLEXION?

DON'T "cover up" a poor complexion! And don't think there's "nothing you can do" about externally-caused pimples, ugly chapped lips and rough, dry skin!

Take a hint from scores of professional nurses—who were among the first to acclaim the greaseless, MEDICATED cream, Noxzema, as a complexion aid! Since then it's been a thrilling discovery to thousands!

Noxzema does so much for poor skin because it's not just a cosmetic cream. It's medicated—not only helps smooth and soften rough, dry skin, but also helps heal externally-caused pimples and blemishes. And in addition it has a mildly astringent action!

SPECIAL TRIAL OFFER

For a limited time you can get a generous 25c trial jar of Noxzema for only 19c (plus tax) at any drug or cosmetic counter. Get a jar today and try it for just 10 days as a night cream and as a powder base. See for yourself how much Noxzema can do to make your skin clearer, softer, lovelier!

Try this RINSE tip for WHITER washes

Gray, dingy or spotty washes are often caused by improper rinsing. That means soap scum may cling to clothes. Use Climalene — just a teaspoon — in the rinse, as well as in the regular wash. Clothes come cleaner, dry whiter, iron better.

VICTORY IN 1942!

DICTATOR JOSEF STALIN is unique among leaders of the warring nations in the respect that he is certain of the ability of his fighting men to make 1942 "a year of final defeat of the German fascist armies.

The Nazi Fuehers timetable of victory has been disarranged by events of the last year and he has abandoned prophecy. Il Duce is befogged, a pitiable wraith of his arrogant self, and realizes for him and his people there can be no victory.

Both President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill are certain only that in the end, soon or late, the United Nations will win.

But Stalin, who has not engaged in idle boasting in recent months, is determined upon the crushing of Germany this year. Certain conclusions upon which he bases his confidence are incontrovertible. It is true, as he says, that war has brought to the German people in spite of their military successes, disillusionment and disappointment. Swift victory has not materialized. Now, after nearly three years of fighting, the end is more remote than ever. Germans human reserves, spread throughout a restive continent, are running down, as are material resources, while those of the enemy, drawn from inexhausible sources, are growing in volume.

There can be no doubt as to the morale of the Russian people. Even in the dark days when Leningrad was encircled, Moscow was threatened, Rostov was lost and the Ukraine was overrun, the spirit of the Russians was dauntless. Now, as there are multiplying evidences of the inability of Germany to strike with assurance of success, Russia has greater reason than at any time during the war for confidence in victory.

Just what significance, if any, can be attached to the failure of Stalin to renew the appeal for a second front, made repeatedly by Litvinoff, is problematical. It may mean that there is an understanding, that a decision has been reached. And, of course, it may mean nothing at all.

Victory in eight months over a nation which is strongly entrenched throughout Europe and which still possesses great striking powers, as well as resistance, may be too much to expect. But in May, 1918, there was none so optimistic as to predict Germanys defeat in November of the same year.

UNDER THE HAMMER

At about the time that President Roosevelt was warning that the American standard of life will have to come down, an auctioneer's hammer was ringing through the Fifth Avenue residence of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney. Disposed of in this sale were "some of the most valuable works of art ever collected." Here was a standard of living that had disappeared before anti-flation measures, plus taxation, had begun to bring down the standard of living of everyone.

No object sold in this sale was an antique as the financial and social setting in which these treasures and others like them were collected. It was an age of private enterprise and freedom for the individual. Great fortunes were made in railroading, mining, manufacturing, banking, speculation. His pile made, the founder of such fortunes ordered built for himself great houses at New York and Newport—French chateaux, English castle, Venetian palaces and Florentine fortresses. Some even built duplicates of Marie Antoinette's little Trianon at Versailles.

It was the Golden Age in America. Their houses built, these Americans rifled a Europe that was defunct because of wars and oppressive governments by whose whim every act of the individual was regulated of its artistic accumulations of centuries. Ceilings, paneling, whole rooms and their furnishings were purchased and transported hence. Tapestries, stained glass windows, chairs, tables, beds, fireplaces and paintings—all were removed and set up here as a kind of sign that their new possessor had "arrived."

Amid this magnificence he often sought an international marriage for his daughters, believing that purchase of a European title would give a social cachet to all this ostentation.

Tastes have changed, titles are at a discount, fortunes have shrunk or have been dispersed through income and inheritance taxes. The few who can still afford it do not want to live in enormous houses. Fifth Avenue has turned to trade, Newport palaces are sold to motion picture actresses and even a box at the opera isn't what it used to be. But the best of the authentic paintings that were brought to America in the Age of Individualism, as well as tapestries and other art objects, are being auctioned off and museums are purchasing them, where the owner or the estate cannot be inveigled by do-gooders into giving them outright.

Thus, for the immediate future, these antique works will be exhibited, reminding everyone of man's superb powers of self-expression.

Hitler had a great offensive planned—but Stalin seems to have beaten him to the draw.

With several hundred thousand Americans already at the fighting fronts the Yanks aren't coming—they're already there.

When Stalin says he has no territorial ambitions he makes a mental reservation to cover the Russian territory now occupied by the Nazis.

Nazis are talking about what a plight the American public is in. At that, it isn't as bad as the plight of the Nazis and for them the worst is yet to come.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

EMOTION AFFFECTS CHILD'S SPEECH

I wish we parents and teachers always realized that emotions are foremost in speech, that how a child feels as he speaks in conversation or in public determines largely how well he speaks.

On several occasions, in this column, I have related testimonies from school children, especially of teen age, from various parts of the United States, on how they say they feel when they talk in the classroom or on a public program. As you will recall, their descriptions of intense emotional disturbance while attempting to talk were very vivid and left us no doubt that such disturbances are very prevalent and intense.

Today I want to consider with you how the growing child may be hampered in similar ways as he talks informally, even to his loved ones.

A Mother's Letter

"Dear Dr. Myers: I would like to have my seven-year-old boy acquire better speech habits. Whenever he is asked to explain aything, no matter how simple, he becomes very confused and jumoles up the thought. I must admit that I always have, since young had trouble myself with speaking. I have developed an inferiority complex from it. I mimgle with a very nice class of people and it is embarrassing not to be able to speak better. I want to save my son this embarrassment. That is why I am writing to you today. Perhaps you can give me some suggestions. Are there any good books on better speech that you would recommend? I enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your reply."

In answering this mother I told her she did not want a book on better speech. She wanted, rather, to work on herself in this child's presence as he speaks, to aid him in feeling more at ease, by listening calmly, courteously and attentively as he talks, not interrpting him to correct his speech nor ever indicating he should hurry, showing no anxiety about his mode of speech as he talks.

Make Him Feel Secure

She should never smile or laugh at him or make him feel the least embarassed, and should try to get others to show him the same consideration. She should try to be a poise[illegible] cultivated hostess in his presence. At some quiet moments alone with him, she might tenderly suggest that he try to pick out a few points he wishes to make and then take good time in expressing them. She should also find this a good rule for herself. It is most important to take plenty of time and never to try to hurry.

She should speak slowly, clearly and distinctly in his presence, read to him a great deal, and encourage him to read to a younger child. While he needs good practice in the skills of speech he needs most of all to feel emotionally comfortable as he talks.

For the child who stutters, all the foregoing suggestions ought to prove especially helpful, in case they are put in to practice.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Do you have faith in stars as a means of controlling a child?

A. In some cases I have more faitn in stars than in stripes. One youngster learned to fall asleep promptly in order to see, when he would awaken, an added gold star on the wall. Stars have cured some children of thumb sucking, or various other habits.

Q. What advice would you offer to high school or college students enlisting for farm service during the summer?

A. Break into the work gradually. Don't expect it to be a lark. Discipline yourself to do an honest day's work so as to enjoy selfrespect and satisfaction from rendering a patriotic service. Respect your employer and try to be a good learner and employee.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN
(International News Service Staff Writer)

Coming soon—sugar—admittance by card.

And don't call it "rationing." Call it "equitable distribution" which it is.

A famous psychologist says that "rationing" is a negative word, a defeatist word. It calls up a picture of long lines of gray, faceless, deprived citizens waiting for a handout.

We've got plenty of sugar and it is being equitably distributed so that there will continue to be plenty for everybody.

The same goes for gasoline.

There's a surplus in many parts of the country but it was to be equitably distributed on the east coast because of transportation tangles.

That's not "rationing" as they know the word in Europe.

Compare your situation—plenty to distribute—with theirs—nothing to distribute—and you get the difference.

Bible Thought For Today

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 8:00. Sun rises tomorrow 5:52.

Very often the men behind the candidate are to be feared more than the candidate.

A chicken thief in Beaver, Pa., was given a year in the coop. The coop has iron bars around it.

Every day some wise guy predicts the war will last five years. We predict it will be over this year. This is as good a guess as any.

Somebody could make a fortune by figuring out a scheme that would permit a man to slip up behind himself and give himself a swift kick in the pants.

ANSWERING CURIOUS CYNIC

The trouble with the male youth of today is that too many of them insist on doing as father DID, instead of doing as father SAYS.

If he calls it a silly, childish game, it's a sign his wife can beat him at it.

The fellow who is awkward in declaring his love is the kind that makes the best husband.

One man's failure is quite often the beginning of another man's fortune.

"Was your husband kind to you during your illness?" "Oh, yis, indade, Mum, Mike was more like a neighbor than a husband."

The sales tax is coming. And it should.

THEN AND NOW

Who remembers when a boy was reprimanded if he called his father "dad."

The affectionate terms used to be "pa" and "ma" or "mama" and "papa."

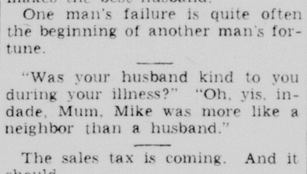

Now it's "dad" and mom.'

A black-haired woman has been picking blond hairs off her husband's coat. The other morning she put them in a biscuit which she served to him—and did he roar! He furiously demanded to know where she got them, and she sweetly informed him she picked them off his coat. They say he has been docile ever since.

There being nothing new under the sun, old stuff has to be used for fooling the people.

A business man in Philadelphia has made voluntary bankruptcy look like a sport. "Liabilities, $2,647,942. assets, 0." Looks like a clean sweep.

It has been suggested in Washington that all kinds of meters be read only four times a month instead of monthly. Some people would not care if they were never read.

The only people more annoying than the socially superior are those who claim to be more righteous than we are.

The meek, we are told will inherit the earth eventually. This seems only proper because they seem accustomed to getting dirty deals.

The going may be tough during war time, but if we don't win the war, the going will be tougher.

A CHANCE TO REPEAT

"You may not remember me, sir, but two years ago I rescued your daughter from drowning, and you made me a present of $1,000."

"Yes, indeed, young man—I recall you perfectly. What can I do for you?"

"I merely dropped in to inquire if your daughter has learned to swim yet."

From the looks of things it will be far better for men to be working for someone else than having a business of their own for the government, for instance.

It is claimed there are plenty of shoes for the duration of the war but the number of styles must be reduced. Some styles can be reduced all right.

No matter how many times Hitler and his cronies get together to talk things over they cannot get any ornier than they have been.

SHOULD CHILDREN STAND TO GREET ELDERS

"I have noticed that seemingly well-bred children stand when in public dining rooms friends of their parents visit temporarily at their table. How long should they remain standing and should girls also do this?"—Mother.

Answer: Both boys and girls should rise when older people enter a room or approach their table in a public dining room. They should remain standing until the adult is either seated or has departed.

In deference to the child's impatience to resume his dinner, the visitor should either remain only a few minutes or accept a proffered chair.

Girls are not expected to rise for men visitors, but both boys and girls must rise for women.

Children should be taught to say "How do you do, Mrs. Smith" at the approach of Mrs. Smith. When introductions are necessary, the child should be taught to stand, extend his or her hand and repeat the salutation given above.

In replying to questions asked by their elders, boys should say: "No, sir," "Yes, Mrs. [illegible]ith." Girls should reply, "No, Mr. Smith," never "sir", and "Yes, Mrs. Smith."

Question: I am considering having scenic wallpaper in my dining room. Is it permissible to hang pictures on it?—M. V. B.

Answer: Scenic papers are in themselves decorative. No object of any sort—fixtures, mirrors or pictures—should be hung on them. These papers should receive the same treatment as do tapestries and paintings.

AMERICA—100 YEARS AGO

There wasn't a public library in the United States;

Almost all the furniture was imported from England;

An old copper-mine in Connecticut was used as a prison;

There was only one hat factory, and it made cocked hats;

Crockery plates were objected to because they dulled the knives;

Virginia contained one-fifth of the whole population of the country;

The Whipping Post and Pillory were still standing in New York and Boston;

Beef, pork, salt fish, potatoes and hominy were the staple diet the year around;

Buttons were scarce and expensive, so trousers were fastened with pegs or laces;

When a man had enough to eat, he placed his spoon across his cup to indicate that he wanted no more;

The church collection was taken in a bag at the end of a pole with a bell attached to arouse sleeping contributors.

One word brings on another, and uglier.

It takes courage to go on making mistakes.

Stalin is smart. Think how Americans would hustle to win a medal that insured freedom from taxes, a pension and top social rank.

Women To Have Big Part In Price Watching
Should Have Job Of Watching Living Costs
Men Will Always Head War Material Buying

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Since women do or dictate most of our civilian spending, why shouldn't they have principal charge of the job of keeping living's cost under control, thus keeping a lid on the inflation that there's so much worrying about?

From Price Fixer Leon Henderson's office comes the answer that they certainly should, provided they'll lend a strong, willing hand. Seemingly they will, for many of 'em have started in at it already, calling would-be profiteers severely to account and filing formal complaints against 'em if they prove to be balky. Many of the gals are quite clamorous for official recognition of their sex's importance in the campaign.

Mere men have to boss our war-supply buying, but that's comparatively an easy assignment alongside the ladies' problem.

The war buyers' figures are tremendously higher than the ones their wives, sisters, feminine cousins and aunts have to deal with, but precious little room for judgment is left, in connection with an armament or munitions purchaser's calculations. Exactly what he's got to have, he's GOT to have. He can't economize here and there. And he can't shop around. If a housewife finds the price of some domestic commodity out of hand, she can cut that item out, and serve a cheaper substitute.

Legitimate Help

Wartime industrial production has a reasonable excuse for hiking prices, also.

Suppose that a factory, hitherto engaged in supplying tincans or bottletops or some such thing, is required to transform itself, overnight, into plane, gun or munitions-making. It can legitimately plead that it hasn't the equipment or personnel for its new function and, unless helped, will go bust and no longer be good for ANYTHING.

But suppose a guy's product is irrevocably in the peacetime class—unchangably so, as with groceries,

John Smith, college student; Olav Svenson, Minnesota farm helper; Harry Shapiro, Chicago taxi-driver; Joe de Florio, Monterey fisherman; Joe Pulaski, New Castle steel worker; Sam Jones, Pittsburgh salesman—not actual names, of course, but they do represent the millions of men from many walks of life, of many differing ancestors, who answered their country's call for military service registration in February.

Drawn from city and farm, from coal mines and fishing fleets, from business houses and institutions of learning, their names and numbers are a measure of America's strength and unity. The ten million men between the ages of 20 and 44 who registered on this third R-day are this nation's unequivocal answer to the powers of darkness whose jungle laws exalt tyranny, aggression, and the false gods of racial superiority, hoping to extinguish in the world the divine spark of conscience and compassion which sets civilized men apart from brutes and savages.

America will fight fire with fire until the forces organized for hatred, intolerance and conquest are swept from the earth. But it is not only a victory at arms that America is determined upon. The nation is mustering her towering strength to preserve her future, as well as present, security, and to maintain in the world that belief in decency, individual dignity and fair play without which a new Dark Age would engulf us. From the time of Jamestown and Plymouth Rock, we have held aloft that belief for religious and economically oppressed of all lands. America is the product of the toil and hopes of men and women of many nations.

The call for another R-day has been answered and the Smiths and Svensons, Pulaskis and Joneses, de Florios and Shapiros have entered their names on the military registration lists, ten million strong. Americans all, prepared to defend this one nation indivisible.

The Byrd Haters

Washington, May 7.

THE RECENT rather coarse outburst of Mr. Lowell Mellett, head of the Office of Government Reports, against Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, was not very important, but it was illuminating. In the course of a long political career Senator Byrd has thriven on the abuse of many men far more eminent and effective. Though he did not, he easily could have afforded to ignore it.

THE INCIDENT WAS chiefly interesting because again it revealed the extreme bitterness of feeling among the more advanced New Dealers toward the Virginia Senator. It is no exaggeration to say that the higher Administration politicians hate him more than they do any other man in public life. All the hate they can spare from the independent columnists they lavish on Senator Byrd. Their distaste for him is much greater than for any Republican. It is intensified by their inability to damage or divert him, though they have tried to do both and still are trying.

THE REASONS for the anti-Byrd feeling are clear. The main one is that from 1933, when the New Deal spending policies were inaugurated, Senator Byrd, more than any other man in Congress, consistently, constantly and effectively has opposed the waste of the public money and pointed out the useless extravagances of the Administration. He did not oppose the New Deal "objectives," but he kept his finger always on the New Deal administrative incompetency and financial irresponsibility.

THESE, OF COURSE, are its most vulnerable points and, in season and out of season, the pressure of Senator Byrd upon them was extremely irritating. In the early days, considerable White House cajolery was used in the effort to divert Senator Byrd, but that was abandoned long ago. Since then, attempts to build up an anti-Byrd machine in his State have been made and Administration patronage has been freely used against him. All of this has proved futile to damage Senator Byrd in his State, in the Senate or in the country. On the contrary, he has grown

TWO MOTHERS

And you have pride in your estate,
But mine is filled with bitter hate.

My son for a siren fell.
You have pride till the day you die,
But only the ache of loss have I.

According to the reports, the only birthday gift received by Adolf Hitler this year was a terrestrial globe, representing the world as it was known in 1350—without the Americas.

We will soon find out that Adolf has been using that very same globe right along, instead of the very latest map, as a good strategist should.

Apparently Hitler has never seen a really complete map of America.

Apparently he has no idea of our vast resources, our plants, our mines, our farms, our fighting forces, our shipyards.

And above all, he hasn't the slightest idea of America's spirit, her courage, her unity, her will to win.

To Hitler, America is bluff and jazz, easy living, love of comfort and luxury, lack of pride and patriotism.

Yes, Adolf, we do like to live well, eat well, dance and go riding in shiny motor cars.

But you'll soon find out what we got by fighting and saving and working, we'll keep that very same way.

We are easy-going and tough, friendly and hard, we'll dance and fight; we like steak and chicken, but we can live on bread and water—to lick you and your ungodly allies.

It's too bad you got the wrong map—you could have saved us and yourself a lot of trouble if you had only gone to the nearest five-and-ten for the latest edition.

Flier Tells How It Feels To Have Plane Shot Down

By MERRILL MUELLER
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, May 7. — "Your temples pound, your nerves tighten, you break into a cold sweat and shrink to the smallest possible size, knowing the armor plate will protect you if you are careful.

"Then, at last, those orange spots you've been seeing ahead and behind materialize as slugs that rip into your plane. The motor conks out. Cripes, you hope he misses. Then, suddenly, you've been shot down but you're alive."

That is how it feels to a fighter pilot to be blasted from the skies by unequal odds of three to one. It was told to me by a boy who should know. He has taken part in a number of air battles and had accounted for one Japanese bomber and two Zero fighters before he was jumped by a superior number of planes and crashed into the sea with all his guns blazing.

Of that, Lieut. John Martin, Jr., 1217 Reynolds street, Clearwater, Fla., says:

"I had the damn guns going full out to ease the crash. When all those Kittyhawk guns are going you lose between 20 and 30 miles per hour speed and that helps, baby, when you've nothnig but luck to land on."

But that isn't what is worrying Martin. All he wants is for his mother and father to know that he's doing his bit.

He said:

"Please tell the folks I got a few of those babies before they crippled my plane."

Martin is sound as a silver dollar and just rarin' to go in his new ship. He is a little fellow—only 5 feet, 5—with reddish brown hair, blue eyes and a wonderful tan as the result of spending most of his time in shorts.

When I met him I was interested in his reactions to being shot down. He laughed and said:

"With the rest of the boys I made a pass through a Jap formation, but I was near the tail of the attack and they jumped me. One was behind and the third lashed at me from the side.

"The fellow at the side failed to hit me and soared overhead but the other boys shot him down. The guy behind pumped cannon machine gun slugs at me continuously. I was weaving, diving, racing in an effort to use my speed to advantage and get out of his range. But the guy up front had other ideas. I saw his guns open up and then felt slugs ripping into my engine. It stopped them.

The slugs ruined my oil supply and I went down in smoke. The Japs broke away, thinking I was dead.

"The cockpit was filled with fumes, but I managed to glide to within 300 yards from shore before I flattened out over the water. Then I opened fire with all my guns and pancaked into the sea.

"The water filled the cockpit as I struggled to undo the safety belt. It finally slipped off and I kicked free of the sinking plane and swam to the beach.

"However, if it hadn't been for friendly natives and an R. A. A. F. rescue party I would have died of starvation, wandering in that desolate bush far from the field."

So what does he want now?

"Revenge on those lousy Japs!"

CHUNGKING, May 7.—Japanese forces have occupied Wanting in western Yunnan province and now have reached Chefang, 38 kilometers inside the Chinese border, a Chungking government spokesman said today.

Bitter fighting now is raging at Chefang, he said.

"The road is in good condition and hard to destroy," he said. "We have not had time enough to destroy it."

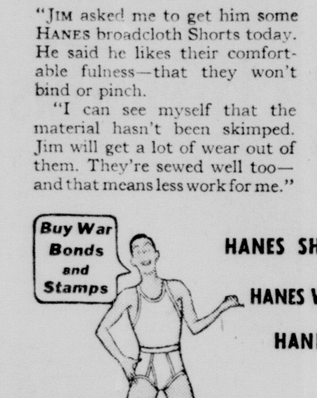

Probe Injury To Elderly Man

City detectives today were investigating what caused the wound on the head of Peter Braunstein, East Washington street merchant. One young man was detained on a technical charge of suspicion.

Police authorities acted after they had been advised that Mr. Braunstein, who is elderly, had been struck over the head with a cane and robbed of $16.

The young man suspected of having used the cane was apprehended. The youth maintained innocence in the reported affair.

EAST SIDE UNION

East Side W. C. T. U. met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Elmer Rice, Shaw street, with 18 members and one visitor present. Mrs. James Gorman was in charge of the program which opened with the group singing "America". Mrs. Rupert and Mrs. Smock led in prayer.

After the scripture reading and singing of "America the Beautiful", prayers were offered by Mrs. Kildoo and Mrs. Glen Orr. Mrs. Gorman then introduced the speaker, Captain Skelton of the Salvation Army who gave an interesting talk on "The Army's War Work", telling of her experiences in China and of the association of the Salvation Army with the U. S. O. in 80 United States camps. A collection was taken and presented to Captain Skelton for Salvation Army work.

Mrs. Smock, the president, had charge of the business session when Mrs. Rupert gave a splendid report for the Loyal Temperance Legion. Mrs. Cartwright reported sending two plants and one card to persons who are ill. Mrs. Orr reported that three sweaters and two pairs of socks have been turned over to the Red Cross since the last meeting, and that she is sending 20 cards to boys in service. Eight boxes of cookies and candy were reported sent to boys in service, and 43 dozen cookies taken to the Almira Home.

Mrs. Glen Orr was appointed delegate to the regional conference to be held at Oil City May 14 and 15, after which the meeting closed with prayer by Captain Skelton.

A social time followed with delicious refreshments being served by the hostess, Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Wesley Mann.

Next meeting will be June 1 in the home of Mrs. Alan Cartwright, Wilmington avenue.

All-American Crew In Attack On German Aerial Squadron Over Holland

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, May 7 — An all-American crew in a havoc bomber participated in an attack on a German aerial squadron over an airport in Holland last night, it was announced today.

It was the first time an all-American crew had been in action in Royal Air Force's air offensive against Germany.

The fliers were believed attached to the R. A. F. as an actual United States air force is not yet in action over Europe although all plans have been made to establish one shortly.

The Americans were Pilot-Officer Lukas, Sergeant Randolph and Sergeant Haskill. Their home towns were not learned immediately.

Reporting on the incident, the air ministry news service said that Bostons, Havocs and Hurricanes raided air fields in France and Holland last night, registering hits on runways and starting many fires.

While over the Holland airfield, the American crew of the Havoc and the pilot of a Hurricane chased an enemy plane to the ground and then dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs on the runway, causing fires visible from 60 miles away.

Posse Slays Man Who Killed Five

(International News Service)

HAMLEY, N. C., May 7 — Will Dawkins, 50-year-old negro carpenter who shot and killed five persons, including Police Chief John Fallow, was dead today, his body riddled under a rain of bullets from the guns of a 500-man posse.

Hunted since Tuesday morning when he ran amok and killed his wife, her two sisters and his two-year-old nephew in addition to Fallow, the negro was trapped yesterday in the Marks Creek Swamp, six miles from Hamlet.

With bloodhounds chasing him out of a dense undergrowth, Carpenter raced toward the swamp and twice fired his shotgun at officers and volunteer posse men before he was downed by a volley of bullets and buckshot.

Pennsylvania Greatest War Producing State

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Pennsylvania now claims the distinction of being the greatest war-producing state in the nation.

Its production is reported to be so vast that only a few of the 26 United Nations can match it, data released by the State Department of Commerce revealed today.

Since the nation went "allout" on war production, there has been a tremendous increase in Pennsylvania's war effort. New plants have been constructed and others are being built. Already-existent war plants have underdone a great expansion.

The products of war manufactured in Pennsylvania range from bullets to heavy tanks, from soldier's underwear to great naval guns, from oil tankers to mighty 45,000-ton battleships, from small pursuit planes to giant bombers.

Everything Included

And that is not all. There are also jeeps, scout cars, wireless and radio equipment, mortars and field artillery, destroyers, sub-chasers, scows and barges, freighters, airplane motors, instruments, propellers and sheet metal, fighter planes and training ships, medium and light tanks; armored cars, shells and explosives.

And from the state which Gov. Arthur H. James has termed "the arsenal of America" are also flowing such vitally-important although less dramatic sinews of war as soldiers' uniforms and overcoats, shirts and shoes, canned foods and fruits.

By the first of this year direct war contracts to Pennsylvania firms had passed the $2,000,000,000 mark, not including sub-contracts.

The Department of Commerce estimated that one-third of the nation's entire output of steel is produced here in some of the world's greatest steel mills. "This is by far the leading heavy industry state in the nation," said a spokesman.

Many Changes

Indicative of the change that has taken place since the war began, the commerce department disclosed that the mills which formerly manufactured milady's silk hosiery today turn out mosquito netting for our boys in the tropics, a product which will help protect them from malaria.

A chocolate factory which formerly catered only to the general public today manufactures a special type of chocolate for the nation's air force. Other plants turn out still different food concentrates.

Much of the T. N. T. manufactured in this country comes from the coal mines in Pennsylvania. "Pennsylvania produces more coal than any other state," commented the commerce department.

What is termed the "best lubricating oil in the world" flows from Pennsylvania wells and helps keep the nation's machinery smoothly operating.

This, said the Department of Commerce, is a picture of what is now being done by Pennsylvania, foremost in industry in time of peace, in the lead in production in time of war.

Officer Of Sharon Steel To Leave

(Special To The News)

SHARON, May 7.—It was announced today that E. A. Reagle of the Sharon Steel Corporation will resign on May 18 to become vice president in charge of war production at the Ingram-Richardson Manufacturing company in Beaver Falls.

Mr. Reagle came to Sharon Steel from the Bethlehem Steel company in Johnstown 22 years ago. He has been very active in Sharon affairs and has served two terms as president of the Sharon Chamber of Commerce, president of the Sharon centennial commission and in many other organizations. He is now vice chairman of the board of trustees of Buhl hospital.

Death Penalty Faced By Negro

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Death in the electric chair was the penalty that faced William K. Wilson, 21-year-old Alabama Negro, today for the confessed murder of Rose Haber last July that netted him only $3 in a purse-snatching episode.

Sentence will be pronounced next Thursday.

Three judges returned a verdict of first degree murder after Wilson halted his trial and pleaded guilty Tuesday. They prescribed the death penalty after testimony showed "nothing . . . that merits extension of mercy."

Tells Of Wealth On Mindanao Isle

Dr. Frank J. Woodward, Missionary To Island, Addresses Kiwanis Club

MILLIONS COULD LIVE ON ISLAND

Dr. Frank J. Woodward, Presbyterian missionary on the island of Mindanao told of the tremendous wealth this island possesses and of the reasons Japan would like to control it, along with the rest of the Philippines, at the Kiwanis weekly meeting on Wednesday.

With a population of only 2,600,000 people, the island could support 50 millions easily, he stated. The climate is very agreeable, very little shelter being required. It possesses huge deposits of gold, iron ore, manganese, and chromium, and valuable forests of mahogany and other wood with rich plantations of pineapples. Copra is also a valuable export.

Dr. Woodward has been in the Philippines for 26 years, having gone out under the Presbyterian church, although he himself as well as his wife, is a Congregationalist. Dr. Woodward returned to the United States a year ago, and because of the war, has been unable to return. His wife is still in the islands, and he is naturally much concerned about her safety.

He told of the splendid treatment the United States government has accorded the Filipinos throughout the entire archipelago since our government took over control of the islands, after 400 years of brutal domination by the Spaniards.

In 1900, 12 per cent of the people were literate, now almost 70 per cent are, and there are seven universities in the islands Once a place of pestilence, American doctors established a new order in health and sanitation; cholera and smallpox have virtually been wiped out.

The United States has never exploited the Philippines and as a result, the islanders are intensely loyal to this country. Labor in the Philippines receives twice as much as in any other spot in that section of the world, he stated.

On Mindanao Island is a great herd of cattle and valuable pineapple plantations, which is what the Japanese are driving on the island now for.

The Moros, who form the bluk of the population in that section are fierce fighters and love to kill. He told of a narrow escape he had only several years ago, being rescued just in the nick of time. They steal the water pipe of the settlers and convert them into "pipe guns" which shoot 'slugs, manufacturing their own gunpowder.

The people are a mixed race, being descendants of Negritos, Mongoloids, and Malayans, intermarried with Chinese and some of the white races. Polygamy flourishes and men cherish large families of girls, who bring high prices as wives, as high as $5,000 being paid in many cases. The Chinese, to whom he paid high tribute, do not care so much about this, marrying for the love of family, but the Japanese will not marry a Filipino unless she comes from a wealthy family and his children can inherit this wealth.

High School Pupils Show The Way; Buy $7,000 War Stamps

Contest Started Back In February 23 Successful; Sales Last Week $2198.55

Never let it be said that New Castle high students are not patriotic or willing to dig deep into their jeans to help the United States smash the Japs.

Back in February 23, school officials decided to stage a war saving bonds and stamp selling contest between the boys and girls.

Here it is 75 days later and the schoolboys and schoolgirls have purchased approximately $7,000 worth of stamps, high school officials disclosed today.

Last week alone, the scholars stepped on the buying accelerator, purchasing $2,198.55 worth of seals.

The stamp selling idea will continue until the close of school.

Whose leading in the contest? What's the difference, that's how the students feel about it.

AROUND CITY HALL

Every person, especially those owning autos, realizes that tires and tubes are rationed and some autoists cannot get them. Therefore, it might be a good idea for the proper city authorities to order attaches of the city to make an investigation of curbs along which it is claimed there are irons which protrude. Several such protruding irons already have been reported. An auto tire now days is as valuable as a leg on a horse in prairie days and the city authorities should have employes conduct a thorough investigation so the menace can be removed.

This is the time of year when the wanderlust hits persons and those who like to seek new fields are doing so. Daily, the state motor police teletype in the city police station carries reports of missing persons. Grieved parents, wives and other relatives seek information concerning the missing. Persons who are reported missing should be sought. In some instances they have later been found to have met with accident or because of what they considered unbearable difficulties have caused them to commit rash acts.

Chicago Professor To Speak On May 14

Dr. Charles E. Merriam will address the Economic and Business Foundation, Inc., of New Wilmington in the W. Charles Wallace Memorial Chapel at Westminster college at 7 p. m. Thursday, May 14.

Dr. Merrim is eminently qualified to speak about "War and Post-War Objectives of the National Resources Planning Board" because he is vice chairman of the planning board itself, and chairman of the department of political science at the University of Chicago. He has written several books on economics and politics and has long been active on several economic magazines.

The lecture will be another in a series on "American Economic Objectives" sponsored by the Economic and Business Foundation, Inc.

Necklaces of amber beads have been found in the caves of men of the stone age.

Garden Hints

A good gardener cares for his tools; he keeps them clean, sharpened and has a definite place for them. The careless gardener constantly wastes time looking for his tools.

We are always anxious to get tomato plants set out, but at this time it is advisable not to put more in the garden than we can protect from the frosts, which may come off and on for the next two weeks or longer. Quart berry boxes saved from year to year provide satisfactory protection for small plants, and they are also convenient to put on and take off.

Eggplant is very tender, as are peppers and pimentos. A watchful eye should be kept over them when they are placed in the open ground before the middle of May.

A row of early celery may be set out at this time. Celery for winter storage, however, should not be set out until the middle of June, or later. Celery is easily raised, and it is convenient to have it in the garden for seasoning or salads. It may be pulled for use long before it has its growth.

While rounding out the planting, one must not forget that it is time for the second sowing of lettuce, spinach, radishes or any of the other quick-growing "garden sass." Many of these things may be planted until August first with excellent result.

The first planting of peas should be well through the ground at this time. Peas may be planted every ten days or two weeks until the first of August. When the family tires of fresh peas, the surplus may be canned. The later plantings of peas should be the bush variety which matures quickly

World's Greatest Performing Elephants To Appear Here

Here is one of the three herds of world famous Rogers elephants which will be seen in new and novel feats of animal intelligence as one of the outstanding features of the Wallace Brothers trained animal circus when it comes to New Castle for two performances on the showgrounds on Butler avenue, May 11.

The doors will open precisely at 1 and 7 p. m., and the exhibitions start at 3:30 and 8 p. m., rain or shine beneath the huge spread of water-proofed tents.

One full hour will be given the early visitors to inspect the mammoth horse fair and zoological arena, which also houses three herds of huge tuskers and ponderous elephantine artists who will take part in the magnificent circus performances.

Of course everyone delights in seeing the elephants eat peanuts—and through a course of one day, one elephant can consume as many that you care to give them, besides the regular rations of two bales of hay and buckets of bran-mash. Their water consumption can also tire a squadron of eager bucket carriers.

Although the elephant's tricks are many, trainers are continually teaching them new ones or reviving old ones not used for some time, and for proof that an elephant "never forgets," all the trainer has to do is give the "cue" and although not doing one of the tricks for years, it will immediately go into a head stand, walk on three legs, do a roll over, or anything that was taught to the ardent pupil who is truly one of the most intelligent beasts known to mankind.

Capt. Tommy McDonald also explains that the reason for one elephant holding on to the tail of the one ahead is to "keep them out of mischief, not that they are bad, but every elephant is much like every little boy and girl.

Governor Acts On Bills Passed By Legislature

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Withholding his approval of a measure amending the state labor relations law, Gov. Arthur H. James cleared his desk today of bills enacted by the recent special session of the General Assembly which adjourned on April 11.

In addition to vetoing a non-controversial bill authorizing the state labor relations board to appeal to the supreme court from adverse decisions of lower courts, the chief executive gave his approval to three more minor measures. Governor James said he was sympathetic to the purposes of the labor bill, which was sponsored by Rep. Homer S. Brown (D) Allegheny, but asserted it failed to come within the provisions of his call and was therefore unconstitutional.

The final measures approved by the governor permit farmers to dispense with license plates for agricultural vehicles or machinery, such as tractors, while the war lasts, and potect the retirement rights of state employes who enter the armed services.

According to a recapitulation issued by the governor's office, 44 bills and resolutions were approved by the special session. Of these, the governor approved 38 and vetoed six.

Among the more important bills signed by the governor were measures liberalizing the unemployment compensation law, strengthening the anti-sabotage laws, centralizing air raid precaution regulations, reapportioning congressional districts and aiding civilian defense by municipalities.

NATION-WIDE SERVICE GROCERS

Pennsylvania's Home Front

(By International News Service)

Here's an idea for every citizen in every community of Pennsylvania—the "share the burden club". Form one or join one to help speed Uncle Sam's war effort in all possible ways. How could you help? Well, you could pledge your club to save gas, tires; go easy on the sugar; avoid hoarding or waste—salvage anything you don't need. You could pool together and award prizes for the best contributions. There's no limit to the output of any concerted effort.

When you have the club actually under way, send the name and address of the headquarters and officers to the division of information, Office of Emergency Management. That's in the Broad Street Suburban Station building, Philadelphia. Tell your local newspaper what you're doing—and watch the movement spread.

After a successful tryout in Maryland, the drive to send an estimated 150,000 wrecked cars to the nation's steel mills is now rolling in Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey. It's estimated there are some 120,000 tons of iron and steel in graveyards of the tri-state area. Militarily speaking, that's material for 21 cruisers, 150 destroyers, or four battleships, exclusive of guns and armor.

Motor trucks bearing the banners, "Give Your Scrap to Beat the Jap", were driven around the streets of Lansdale recently. By day's end the trucks were laden with 50 tons of metal.

If forced evacuation is ever required in Pennsylvania, the Commonwealth is prepared with a set of traffic rules that will result in the least interference with our armed forces. Keystone automobile club said the plans of evacuation routes have been approved by the third area army corps. State motor police will be stationed at strategic points to direct traffic.

A special advisory committee will be appointed to plan more effective participation of Pennsylvania's 400,000 negroes in the war effort, Dr. A. C. Marts, director of the State Council of Defense, announced the committee will be composed of negro leaders.

Officials of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company at Lester announced organization of a war production committee of employes and management representatives. J. George Morgan, the firm's industrial relations manager, was named chairman.

Section by section, the vast metropolis of Philadelphia will undergo test blackouts in May lasting from 10 to 11 p. m. Largest blackout, scheduled May 14, will darken the area from Lehigh avenue south to the navy yard and from the Schuylkill to the Delaware river.

Across the Delaware from Philadelphia, Camden county in New Jersey has contributed to the United Nations' offensive a pre-Revolutionary cannon which stood for years on the site of the Kieckhefei Container company at Delair. The company has recovered, all told, about 90,000 pounds of scrap metal and may reclaim 100,000 pounds more.

Plan Collection Of Garbage In New Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 7 —At the regular monthly meeting of borough council, steps were taken to set up the organization for collection of garbage.

Recommendations were made by a special committee, consisting of Burgess W. B. Gilliland, Howard Temple, Clare E. Wagner, and T. V. Mansell, and were adopted by council. These call for starting the garbage collection service on June 1, and establishing the price at 75c monthly. Garbage will be collected once a week, and cans monthly.

Complaints resulting from infractions of certain borough ordinances regarding garbage have made necessary the increasing the size of the local Board of Health from three members to five. The new board consists of Dr. Hugh M. Hart and John Semple, retained from the old board; Mrs. W. B. Gilliland, Mrs. R. F. Williams, and Harold E. Burns.

The applications of Miss Helen Francis and Kenny Cathcart for the positions of lifeguard and caretaker, respectively at the local swimming pool, were accepted by council. The application of Cathcart was accepted conditionally, providing legal barriers to the employment of a minor could be overcome. Borough Secretary Mansell was authorized to contact the proper atuhorities on this question.

What's What At A Glance

Well, OPA, the agricultural department and various other agencies can keep an eye on HIM down to the point where he ceases to clasify as a wholesaler, but retail merchants are pretty hard to supervise. They're too numerous and scattered to supervise from central headquarters. They're the birds the womenfolk are relied on to hold in line—first by warning 'em, then by reporting 'em to Uncle Sam.

The girls are at it today.

My wife says, "Oh gee!" when the grocer names his terms. She brings our edibles home on our kids' own express wagon, to save delivery tires. She does most of our own laundering. She orders my pants and shirts and shoes. I don't like to admit that she's more patriotic than I am, but she's a more 100-percenter.

I've heard reports of women's advocacy of restrictions on tobacco consumption—higher prices, anyway.

That Noble Experiment

It's a fortunate thing for alcoholics that we had the prohibition experience back in the 1920's. Otherwise we unquestionably would be having a perfect rampage of it right now. Taking a drink the other day with Dr. J. M. Doran, our last dry enforcement officer, the doc said it was a blessing—or our intemperance would be crippling our war effort today.

I do hear complaint from the ladies relative to proposed restrictions on ice cream.

The volume of the stuff's sale isn't so much criticized, but its flavors are needlesly numerous, it's said. Vanilla, particularly, is described as too shy. The children don't especially care (I suppose they think they can bootleg what they need), but their mothers do.

Apropos temperance there's this story of record in print:

"A customer came into the National Press club and said, 'Gimme a sarsaparilla.' "Sorry," said the bartender. "Due to wartimes, we haven't got any." "Oh, well," said the applicant, "gimme a coca-cola." "Haven't got any," replied the dispenser. "Then a lemon squash." "No lemon squash on tap." Then," quoth the customer, "gimme a double Scotch. Heaven knows I wanted a temperance drink."

The Great Game Of Politics

stronger in them all and his administrative opponents, in the absence of arguments, are reduced to epithets and a singularly ineffectual campaign of personal disparagement.

SINCE THE WAR, Senator Byrd has intensified his economy fight for two reasons—(one) because the unnecessary waste has been many times multiplied; (two) because of his entirely sound conviction that rigid retrenchment in the non-war expenses is essential to winning the war. He has voted with the President on every war appropriation and war power bill, and he has consistently supported his foreign policy. But, his proposals for cutting $2,000,000,000 from non-war governmental expenditures are supported by a strong public sentimented in the country and in the Senate. Moreover, they are in tune with the President's own recommendations of January, 1941.

THE THING about Senator Byrd that particularly angers the New Deal spenders is that neither his democracy nor his patriotism can be impugned. As a man, as a Democrat and as a patriot he will not suffer in comparison with any of them, from the White House down. Nor will all the little administration name callers and smear artists be able to do him injury. Before long Senator Byrd, Senator Tydings, Senator McKellar and others who are making this fight are going to make a very real dent in governmental extravagance and a lot of useless jobholders are going to be severed from the pay roll. They do not like the prospect and the recent attack on Senator Byrd is a sample of the kind of stuff that may be expected from them.

SOON OR LATE, it is going to become clear to the people generally that everybody is making sacrifices in this war except the New Dealers at Washington. These are not only holding on to their "social gains" but holding even harder to their unnecessary jobs. With the heaviest taxes in history pressing upon rich and poor alike; with inflation a peril which is being feebly dealt with by the administration; with the nation needing every dollar in revenue it can get; the gentlemen who man these unnecessary and expensive governmental gadgets fight like tigers to prevent their elimination and do so with White House approval. On Monday the President did move in the direction of the Byrd committee by asking Congress for reduced appropriations for the CCC and the NYA. But the Byrd committee asks their complete abolition for the war period, which arouses the most violent jobholder antagonism. In face of this, the President continues to ignore the committee, insists that those who urge economy upon him are "never specific," and his underlings exude abuse. It is a poor way to meet a vital issue.

Japan Reports Corregidor Fall

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Japanese Imperial headquarters made an official announcement regarding the fall of Corregidor and other island fortresses in Manila Bay by reporting today in a communique that occupation of the fortresses was completed at 8 o'clock this morning, Tokyo time.

The announcement, carried by Tokyo radio and heard in San Francisco by Columbia Broadcasting System's short wave listening station, said:

"The fall of the island fortress of Corregidor in Manila Bay was formally announced at 5:50 o'clock this afternoon (Thursday) by the Imperial headquarters."

The communique, according to CBS, added that Japanese army and naval units succeeded in putting ashore landing forces on the islands in the bay at 11:15 p. m. Tuesday.

State Rationing Officials Have No Gas Orders

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 7.—State rationing and defense officials said today that they had no official knowledge of the reported imminence of direct federal administration of rationing in Pennsylvania.

State Rationing Administrator T. Elmer Transeau admitted he had heard reports to that effect and had been queried on it by at least one local rationing board, but outside of that he knew nothing, he said.

A. Boyd Hamilton, secretary of the state defense council, said his agency was also uninformed on the subject, but explained such a matter would normally be taken up direct with the state rationing administrator.

Neither official discounted the possibility that the report might be true, Hamilton remarking that it was not unusual for the state to receive official knowledge of orders issued in Washington three weeks after they were made public.

Urge Prompt Action To Save Cook Forest

In the current issue of The Groundhog, New Castle's Men's Garden publication, is an article concerning Cook Forest which states that only prompt action by the people will save Cook forest.

The article states in part: "Cook Forest was set aside as a state forest about 15 years ago when the Pennsylvania legislature appropriated the sum of $400,000 and a further $250,000 was raised by public subscription. About $10,000 was given in pennies, nickels and dimes by school children of the commonwealth. Today, Pennsylvania has more than a million dollars invested in Cook forest.

"The Federal Power commission of the United States has proposed to build a 250 foot dam on the Clarion river, which borders Cook forest, flooding the forest save only for a few trees on higher ground. One group of experts declare that the dam would reduce the pollution of the Clarion river, by permitting the waste to settle in and around the shores of a lake which the dam would create. Other experts declare that the dam would merely convert an open sewer into a cesspool. The choice is between a doubtful reduction of pollution as revealed by the microscope, and a sure increase of pollution as revealed by the nose.

"And now, because we are at war, this dam, which could not be completed for a number of years, is declared to be a 'defense' project. This is a false claim. The dam is not on the list of the projects approved by the National Power Policy committee for defense purposes. And more than ever in war time, Cook forest is needed for the recreation and inspiration of hundreds of thousands of people who visit it annually.

"The project for the dam on the Clarion river and flooding of Cook forest is now before the committee of the Budget at Washington. An entreaty is made to all who love trees, forests and wild life to help save Cook forest. Please write to: Mr. Harold D. Smith, director of the Budget, Washington, D. C. protesting against the erection of the dam that would destroy Cook forest. And please, also, write to your Senators and Representatives at Washington, asking them to protest to the Director of the Budget.

"This is a matter that should interest people in all of our states. The great sugar pines of the Yosemite, the forests of the Olympic Peninsula, and the big trees of Redwood mountain were saved when people of every state rallied in defense of these endangered forests. Our virgin forests, so few and in such ever-recurring danger, are a precious possession of all the people. Forest lovers throughout the country must come forward to save the glory that is Cook forest."

Prof. Charles G. Lindner, a member of the Men's Garden club, is editor of The Groundhog.

Tank Cars May Be Diverted To Haul Fuel Oil

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 7. — Indicating that the amount of gasoline to be rationed to motorists along the Atlantic seaboard each week will fall well below five gallons, the price administration warned today that many tank cars moving gasoline to the East coast will have to be diverted to hauling fuel heating oil.

The warning was made as the O.P.A. mailed out 250,000 copies of "gasoline rationing regulations" to state and local officials in charge of the 10,000 rationing boards that will be functioning throughout the country by the time gasoline registration is held May 12, 13, 14. Rationing begins May 15.

In revealing the regulations, the O.P.A. cited a hypothetical table showing that average motorists probably will be limted to from two to six gallons of gas a week. The O.P.A. cautioned, however, that the table is merely for the purpose of instructing local boards how to issue ration cards. Officials said that a "supplementary schedule" may be announced later.

New Jersey Man Has Huge Sugar Hoard, And Problem

(International News Service)

NORTH BERGEN, N. J., May 7.—The Budesa children have a "sugar daddy" but it doesn't do them any good with their local sugar registration board.

The Budesas were denied their ration books because Joseph Budesa has 15,000 pounds of the war-scarce commodity in storage but he can't touch it until its status is clarified by the department of agriculture in Washington.

Budesa said he accumulated the sugar with the intention of setting himself up in business as a sugar and spice jobber.

When he learned of the acute shortage, Budesa wrote the department of agriculture about his hoard and in turn was informed the department would take care of it.

So today, Mrs. Budesa and her two children, Joseph, Jr., 10, and Anna, 12, were on their last pound of sugar because their "sugar daddy" can't touch the seven-and-half tons of sugar he purchased in pre-war days.

ARE YOUR Bowels Stubborn?

Then try kindness! First of all you can't expect them to act unless you give them a chance. Most people make sure to get 3 meals a day. But they never think of giving their bowels a regular time (daily) for evacuation.

If you've neglected YOUR bowels until they finally became stubborn and unwilling to act, ask your druggist for ADLERIKA. It is an effective blend of 5 carminatives and 3 laxatives giving DOUBLE action. Gas is expelled and bowel action follows surprisingly fast. After that, make up your mind to give your bowels 5 or 10 minutes' time at regular hour, daily. Your druggist has ADLERIKA.

Make Ready For Spring Reunion

Service Division Has Dinner Meeting In The Castleton Wednesday Evening

REUNION WILL OCCUR IN JUNE

Plans were made for the annual spring reunion of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R., which will take place on June 9, 10 and 11, at a dinner meeting of the service division, of which Ill. Welty O. Rugh is chairman, in The Cathedral, Wednesday evening.

Following the dinner, a program of entertainment was presented, the dramatic class of the senior high school, directed by Miss Clara M. Hartsuff, presenting a two-act play, "Lease On Liberty," a play which deals with the problems of the times, the presentation being a preview of the production, which will be given at the senior high school later in the month.

The splendid cast acquitted themselves most creditably and those who will be privileged to see the production at the high school will see a worthwhile play. The cast included:

A splendid talk was given by Dr. Charles W. Platt, doctor of philosophy at Grove City College, his theme also being a patriotic one. Talks were also given by Commander-in-Chief Ill. John E. Elliott, and Past Commanders-in-Chief John E. White and S. Reed Megoun.

A checkup on petitions reveals the fact that a large class will take the degrees in June, with more expected to be presented later.

The next event on the Consistory calendar is a dinner for the incoming and outgoing officers on Tuesday evening, May 26.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Abdomen," from "abhere," means to hide or conceal.

Abdomen is the proper word for the mid-part of the body.

The abdomen has thick, muscular walls.

They conceal many organs contained within.

Only indirect methods of examination are possible.

Various organs function within this abdominal space.

When all proceeds normally, harmony prevails.

Disturbances, however, may arise within the abdomen itself.

Disorders affecting it occur outside the abdomen.

Sometimes these disorders appear to originate within.

Difficulties are encountered in interpreting abdominal pain.

"Abdere"—to hide or to conceal—is correct.

To Speak Here Sunday, May 10

J. RAYMOND SCHMIDT

J. Raymond Schmidt of Washington, D. C., general superintendent of the National Civic league and associate editor of the National Voice, will visit Lawrence county for two addresses this coming Sunday, May 10.

In the morning he will be speaker at Central Christian church, New Castle, and in the evening at the United Presbyterian church, New Wilmington. The churches of the community will unite in making the New Wilmington meeting a union service.

"America's Sure Foundation" will be Mr. Schmidt's subject.

A portion of each address will be dedicated to the campaign for the moral protection of our soldiers and sailors as undertaken by the "Committee for the Defense of Our Defenders," headed by Bishop Ralph S. Cushman of St. Paul, Minn.

FRENCH FORCES AT MADAGASCAR SURRENDER BASE

being to achieve a victory as speedily as possible and thus avoid unnecessary bloodshed.

"Our first assault against one of the French positions was repulsed with losses which might exceed 1,000 men," he said.

"But Major General Sturges attacked again last night and captured the position.

"French naval and military commanders surrendered and the town of Diego Suarez was captured.

Aid French Liberation

"We trust the French nation in time to come will regard the episode as a recognizable step in liberation of their country—including Alsace and Lorraine—from the German yoke."

Churchill gave additional details of the operation to the House of Commons.

"The landing has been successfully accomplished," he said.

"By Tuesday evening our troops were in contact with French forces before Diego Suarez, Antsirane and Orangea.

"The first assault against Antsirane was repulsed with losses that may exceed a thousand men, but General Sturges again attacked last night and captured Antsirane. The French naval and military commanders surrendered and the town of Diego Suarez also was captured.

"Early this morning there was a further attack on the batteries of Orangea in the harbor entrance.

"These now have surrendered and a protocol is being drawn up between the commanders on either side."

Major Defenses

The announcement dealt only with the situation on the extreme north of the 1,000-mile island. But the major part of Madagascar's defenses were concentrated in the Diego Suarez area and it was assumed that capitulation there meant the surrender of the entire island.

The capture of Antsirane was effected through a diversionary drive on Diego Suarez, a joint admiralty and war office communique disclosed.

While British units which landed at Courier bay to the west began a march on Diego Suarez, it was revealed, other forces disembarked a few miles south in the vicinity of Ambarata and gained rapid headway toward Antsirane while the attention of the French defenders was diverted to the northern column.

All armed resistance in the vicinity of Diego Suarez ceased with the fall of Antsirane and only a few pockets east of the naval base needed to be "cleaned up", the communique said.

Taken Last Night

Antsirane was taken last night, less than two days after British troops, including light armored units and a contingent of the famed commandos, landed from transports under protection of British warships.

"Antsirane, chief town in the harbor of Diego Suarez was captured by a night attack last night," the joint communique said.

"The main British attack was launched from the south but the landing of royal marines from the north created a valuable diversion.

"The French naval and military commanders at Antsirane surrendered but there still are some pockets of resistance to be cleared up.

"One Vichy submarine and one sloop which were in Diego Suarez harbor were sunk.

"British landings were made at Courier bay and also at a bay a few miles south of Ambarata. The Courier bay landing dealt with Diego Suarez and the other Antsirane.

Still Some Resistance

"The latter was held up Wednesday a mile or two south of the town where the French were holding a position strongly defended by .75 millimeter guns and machine guns.

"Pockets of resistance still are holding out, probably on the Oronjia peninsula where there are a number of coastal defense batteries.

"As the troops landed on the beach they were unable to carry heavy equipment nor was it possible to land a large number of guns.

"Close aerial support, therefore, was of great importance and worked out extremely well.

"It can now be assumed that all organized resistance has been stopped."

The submarine referred to in the British communique apparently was the Beveziers and the sloop the auxiliary cruiser Bouganville. The loss of both were announced yesterday by the French.

Diego Suarez, at the tip of an isthmus extended into Diego Suarez boy lies across a strait approximately six miles from Antsirane.

Earlier the Nazi-controlled Paris radio had announced that the fall of Madagascar appeared "inevitable".

News Briefs From City Hall

City Solicitor Robert M. White has been authorized by city council to draft a bill condemning certain lands owned by M. J. Scanlon in Montgomery street which council believes will be required when the state highway is widened in that section. If the price set by viewers is considered too high council can repeal the measure, after it is adopted.

Director of Streets James Gibson today informed council that the outlook for paving and resurfacing is dark. He has been informed, Gibson asserted, that the government proposes to freeze blacktop material within the near future.

Police court receipts during month of April amounted to $1,152.25 and city engineering department receipts $471.41, according to reports delivered to city council this morning when council met in city hall.

Council authorized Purchasing Agent Joseph D. Alexander today to buy as much chlorine as needed in the operation of the city disposal plant because of the likelihood that the city may want it later and not be able to buy it.

UNITED STATES NAVY PATROLS MARTINQUE

British occupation of Madagascar, it is feared that the French high commissioners might be instructed to disregard the agreement with this government and told to order the warships to attempt to make a dash out into the open sea. The naval patrol is on the lookout for any such move.

May Never Arise

If the American government could obtain personal assurances from Admiral Georges Robert, the French high commissioner of Martinique, and the other French possessions in this hemisphere, that he could not permit those colonies to be used in any way for pro-Axis activities and would not associate himself with any of Laval's pro-German collaborationist plans, the necessity for taking action against the French possessions might never arise. It would cause no surprise in diplomatic quarters in Washington if such an effort was being made by this government.

If, on the other hand, the American government should find it necessary to occupy Martinique and the other French possessions in this hemisphere, the action will be taken in accord with the agreement reached with the other American republics at the Havana conference in July 1940.

Under the Pan-American convention covering European possessions in the Western hemisphere, the United States has the right to take over Martinique if it believes there is any danger of pro-Axis activities there.

The convention provides that after taking over any such European possessions in this hemisphere, the United States shall invite other American Republics to participate in the establishment of a provisional administration in the territory.

This provisional administration would govern the European colonies until such time as the people of the country to which it belongs are in a position to express their "free" will concerning its future.

Schools in Switzerland are being closed intermittently because of scarcity of heating materials, according to the Department of Commerce.

Claim Million Are Liquidated By Nazi Guns

By KATHLEEN HARRIMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 7—The Nazi German overlords of Continental Europe, seeking to impose their will on populations that steadfastly refuse to bend the knee to tyranny, have already liquidated almost 1,000,000 dissidents, a check-up disclosed today.

The recent announcement by Nazi authorities in the Netherlands that 72 Dutchmen had been executed led this correspondent to visit the various headquarters of governments in exile to determine the full extent of German savagery in dealing with unruly civilians.

The figures obtained are obviously incomplete and do not include secret executions and the thousands dying of starvation in out of the way places or in concentration camps. Information of this type must necessarily be incomplete as the governments in exile are determined to tell nothing that might lead the Germans to their sources in occupied countries.

Cleveland Pastor At Downtown Church

Dr. Robert B. Whyte Speaking In First Presbyterian Church This Week

Appreciative congregations are hearing Rev. Dr. Robert B. Whyte, minister of Old Stone church, Cleveland, each evening this week in the First Presbyterian church, corner of North Jefferson and Falls streets.

Dr. Whyte, Canadian born, is an outstanding author and preacher. His theme for this evening's service is "Consecration."

Garth Edmundson, church organist, is opening each service, at 7:50 p. m., with a ten-minute period of organ music.

The services, tonight and Friday night, are open to the public.

Treser Resigns His City Berth

Stanley Treser, former councilman and more recently a member of the city's engineering force, has resigned to accept a similar position with the United Engineering & Foundry Company, it was announced today by Director James Gibson in council meeting, held in city hall.

Council also passed Gibson's resolution which expressed council's appreciation of Treser's work as councilman and also as a member of the engineering force and wished him success in his new position.

It is unknown when a successor will be named

Many Workers Hold To Belief They'll Get Tires

International News Service
Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Despite the serious rubber shortage and tire rationing, many Pennsylvania workers refuse to believe that they will not be able to get tires, Commerce Secretary Mark S. James declared today.

Following a survey of war industry areas and scores of other communities to analyze the mass transportation problem, James said the workers were "a great deal more confident than the tire rationing authorities are, and I am afraid thousands of industrial workers will not realize their inability to get tires until it is too late to conserve the rubber they now have."

What Survey Revealed

The survey revealed four major points relating to transportation difficulties, he said. They were:

1. Tens of thousands of Pennsylvania employes—in some instances as many as 60 per cent of the workers at war plants—now depend on their own automobiles to reach their jobs.

2. While most employers and many of their employes realize the seriousness of the tire shortage, an alarmingly large number of workers do not regard the shortage as real or refuse to take steps to prolong the life of tires.

3. Tire rationing authorities report that only a small percentage of the applications for re-treads or re-capped tires can be filled and there will be no new tires this year for industrial workers—including war workers, and none are in prospect for 1943.

4. Many communities are establishing emergency transportation committees, sponsored by employers and community officials, to meet specific transportation problems in their respective areas.

Don't Take Seriously

Raymond H. Smith, deputy secretary, who directed the survey, said the most disquieting fact uncovered "was the reluctance or unwillingness of an important percentage of workers to take the tire shortage seriously."

In some cases they not only refused to believe they would be without tires," he added, "but they refused to utilize bus service established for them since the tire shortage developed."

Smith stated that T. Elmer Transeau, state rationing administrator, has emphasized that there is not sufficient crude rubber for all essential uses and that there is none at all for many vital needs.

"Although rationing regulations permit certificates for re-treads and recaps for essential workers under strictly defined restrictions." Smith said, "certificates will mean nothing if there is no crude rubber available to produce the retread."

The commerce department is cooperating with the public utility commission, which has launched a series of state-wide hearings in an effort to aid local communities solve the transportation question.

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Purification of the temple.

"My house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples."
—Isaiah 56:7.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 10 is Matthew 21:12-22, the Golden Text being Isaiah 56:7, "My house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples.")

Jesus, going into the temple at Jerusalem, found men in the outer court selling livestock and doves for the worshipers to buy to offer as sacrifices, and haggling over prices, etc. Jesus became righteously angry, and drove them from the sacred place, overturning the tables of the money changers and the seats of them that sold doves. "It is written," He said, "My house shall be called the house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves."

Doves could be used as substitute sacrifices on certain occasions and were bought by the poor. To turn the sacred temple into a market place was to Jesus and His followers unthinkable. It would not only defame the temple for the Jews, but make it look cheap and common to the Gentiles. There is a place for buying and selling, and it is not in the temple of God.

Jesus then turned from this act of righteous indignation to His usual merciful act of healing. The blind and the lame found Him there in the temple and came to Him to be healed. Seeing His miracles performed, children (boys) in the building, doubtless having heard the cries of "Hosanna in the highest" that rang out on the previous day, shouted "Hosanna to the Son of David." Hosanna is a Hebrew word meaning something like our Hurrah. It is a cry of joy and wonder.

Scribes and Pharisees Angered

The scribes and Pharisees, also present in the temple, did not like this demonstration, and asked Jesus if He heard what the boys were saying. Jesus answered them, "Yea have ye never read. Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfecetd praise?" Jesus was very familiar with the old Testament, and frequently quoted from it—often to the confusion of His enemies, whom he was always tripping.

Jesus left the temple after this, and went to Bethany to spend the night.

The next morning He left Bethany and turned again to Jerusalem. Being hungry, He went to a fig tree growing beside the road to satisfy His hunger, but found that the tree bore leaves only, no fruit. "Let there be no fruit from thee henceforward for ever," He said to the tree, and immediately it withered away.

A gentleman who had lived in Palestine explains this tree found to be barren in this wise: "Towards the end of March (this episode took place April 3, A. D. 30) leaves begin to appear on a fig tree, and in about a week the foliage is complete. Coincident with, and sometimes even before, there appears quite a crop of small knobs, not the real figs, but a kind of early forerunner. They grow to the size of green almonds, in which condition they are eaten by peasants and others when hungry."

As there were none of these small knobs on the tree it was known that it would bear no figs and be of no use. The fig tree stood for the tribe of Israel, and the action was symbolic of the barrenness of the Israelites to whom the Lord had been preaching and who had rejected Him as their Messiah.

The disciples were, nevertheless, surprised at the miracle, and exclaimed, "How soon is the fig tree withered away!" Jesus answered, "Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea, it shall be done.

"And all things, whatsover, ye shall as in prayer, believing, ye shall receive."

None of us need expect to move mountains by our prayers. But faith, believe me, will give us strength to do many things we may think impossible. Are we sad, is our faith in our power to work, to love our enemies, to get along with others, to overcome our handicaps, weak or non-existent? Let us pray for help and have faith that power will come to us, that we will have the strength to do any good thing and to conquer, and see how we are given power to win. Of course not every wish will be granted, we must prepare to also say, "Not my will, but Thine be done," but we will be given courage to go forward, to work and fight for the Right, with our Lord's help.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Pennsylvania's new parole system will shortly begin operating. On June 1 the long fight to install a streamlined, more modern, system of handling the release of penitentiary and jail inmates will show its fruition. With the beginning of the new state fiscal year, a state parole board, composed of five members, will take over the duties formerly performed by the Board of Pardons, which is composed of two elected and two appointed state officials. The pardon board will henceforth confine its activities to the consideration of pleas for commutations and capital cases.

People in the armed services are now accorded the right to send their mail free, a privilege formerly accorded only to congressmen, senators and presidential widows. The Pennsylvania Chapter of the American Legion claims the distinction of having initiated this new plan. The suggestion to accord all service men and women this right was made on June 6, 1941, by Auditor General F. Clair Ross, Pennsylvania chairman of the Legion's Defense Committeee, to Postmaster General Walker and Pennsylvania's delegation at Washington. After conferences with postal authorities and the war and navy departments, the suggestion was given presidential approval.

The country's second largest domestic rug, which graces the floor of the governor's reception room at the state capitol, has just been shampooed and today gleams as bright as it did when it was first installed in 1906 during the administration of Governor Samuel Pennypacker. The largest domestic rug is said to be in the Roxy theatre in New York.

WOMEN MECHANICS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—In New York City 1,700 women no longer need to telephone garages if their automobiles come to an unexpected halt. Graduates of motor mechanics courses given by the American Women's Volunteer Service, they are capable of lifting the hood and diagnosing the trouble.

Women taking the course are taught how to make all minor adjustments and many major motor repairs. Thirty volunteer teachers, all professional mechanics, give the courses in 25 garages

'BB' GUN RAMPAGE

(International News Service)

DENVER—Police are attempting to learn the reason for the sudden wave of window-smashing by boys with "BB" guns in Denver.

In less than two weeks more than $2,000 worth of large plate glass store fronts were shattered by shots from air rifles. Typical comment of boys held in connection with the vandalism is "we like to hear the glass bust."

P. U. C. Will Confer On Transportation

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 6—The Public Utility Commission today planned to confer at Washington with Josept B. Eastman, federal traffic coordinator, to discuss transportation problems in Pennsylvania arising from the influx of workers in war industry centers.

The commission had expected to hold a series of state-wide meetings to discuss the problem wtih community and transportation officials but held the conference in abeyance pending Eastman's outline of the federal government's travel rationing program.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Forty Five Girls Among Those Being Trained At N.Y.A. Vocational Center

To reach the New Castle NYA Vocational Training Center, a visitor must walk through towering trees in a grove near the beautiful reaches of Cascade park. Through flowering dogwood and beneath cool shade trees the path winds, until suddenly the visitor steps directly from the woodland peace into the hustling area of activity that is the NYA center.

Low, bare, utilitarian buildings are seen through a dusty haze raised by chugging bull-dozers and charging trucks. The sound of busy machines and loud hammering rends the air whether the visitor arrives early in the morning or 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The NYA camp is always busy.

180 Youths and 45 Girls

Here 180 young men and 45 young women are studying and working to learn enough so that they may do their part in the great production battle for victory against the Axis.

Your reporter walked along to the administration building which forms one side of the school quadrangle. Unfinished roads and unpainted buildings give evidence of the haste with which the NYA Training Center was put together, but with all their haste they had time to erect a towering flagpole which proudly displays the flag.

The Resident Director, John C. Pella, said that the project had broken ground in the late fall of 1940 and that by July 1941, most of the seventeen buildings had been ready to receive the first of the youths. It reminds one of an army camp with its flagpole and low buildings; and in its own way it is teaching an army of industrial fighters against the common enemy.

Boys and girls from as far away as Wilkes-Barre are being trained to weld and do machine work. As they learn, they are working on orders from defense plants or the Army.

It is strange to see the girls—their average age is nineteen—wearing overalls with bandannas protecting their hair. Instead of lipstick and powder, the NYA girls have the clean dirt of honest labor on their faces and they seem to thrive on it.

Relative Merits?

When asked about the relative merits of the boys and girls Director Pella rather guardedly admitted that on the whole the girls apply themselves a bit better than the majority of the boys.

Only a few of the girls trained so far, have been placed in industrial plants in Western Pennsylvania, but every personnel man to visit the camp recently has said that he expected to be using women soon. The NYA Training program is anticipating a future demand.

The girls stay at the Crawford-Oakridge home at night, but the young men live at the project and keep the machines humming all through the night.

The boys have their own government, here, and they make their own rules. Mr. Pella said: "While training them to build for democracy, we are giving them a chance to learn what democracy really means." And it works well. When a boy is caught breaking the rules, the punishment meted out by the boys, themselves is much more severe than the administration would have given.

Second Largest

The New Castle Vocational Training camp is the second largest in the state and at one time had the largest enrollment in the state. But Mr. Pella was glad he did not have too large an enrollment for it meant that his boys and girls were getting jobs faster than he could train them.

In the last two weeks, alone, twenty-nine have left the camp to go to work on the production battle lines for such places as the War department, Johnson-Bronze, Bethlestem Steel, Standard Steel Spring, and Cooper-Bessemer.

Any unemployed youth, who is out of school and between the ages of 18-25 is eligible for training by the NYA. It teaches the youths to be welders and machine hands which are most needed in the war industries in Western Pennsylvania.

Quietly and efficiently, the NYA Vocational Training camp has gone about its job of preparing youth for the big job, and it is to be hoped that its work may go on for it is doing not only New Castle, but the United States of America a great service.

Measles Increasing In Scott Township

For the week ending April 30, there were 31 cases of measles reported from Scott township to the district health center office, which means there are about three cases in that district now for every one reported several weeks ago.

Hickory township reported two cases of measles, and one of scarlet fever.

No other new cases of contagious diseases were reported in New Castle or the county for the past week.

The real power is the one that holds the purse strings—first kings, then parliaments, then Jesse Jones.

Expert Riflemen Need Of Marines

According to an announcement received here by Sergeant Dean of the marine recruiting office in the post office, the great expansion of the United States Marine Corps has created a bottleneck in the training of marine riflemen. Expert riflemen to teach recruits to shoot are badly needed.

To meet this need, recruiting officers may authorize for appointment to ranks up to and including sergeant, men who are qualified rifle range instructors, coaches at colleges, clubs and the like are especially qualified.

Military observers have expressed amazement at the expert marksmanship of the marines in the Pacific and have asked "how do they get that way?"

They "get that way" from expert instruction and ceaseless practice—practice plenty is available, but more instructors are needed. Sergeant Dean will be glad to give any qualified person information on this subject.

LENINGRAD MUSIC SEASON

(International News Service)

MOSCOW—In spite of the war at its gates Leningrad is planning an extensive musical season, including the wellknown operas "Prince Igor", "Borgis Godunov," and "Eugene Onegin."

Light concerts, in which Red Army songs and dance performers, opera singers, ballet dancers and music-hall artists will take part, are being planned.

TWO ARE INDICTED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Federal grand jury Wednesday afternoon returned indictments against a New Castle and an Ellwood City man.

The Lawrence countians, and the charges involved, follow:

Gerald Lee Roy Stoner, Ellwood City, Selective Service Act violations.

Victory Garden Plans Progress

Members Of Men's Garden Club To Serve As Supervisors

SOME WARNINGS ON GARDEN IDEA

Dick Rentz, chairman of the New Castle Victory Gardens, announced today that the Men's Garden Club had volunteered aid on this important project. The following members of the Men's Garden Club will work directly with Mr. Rentz and will serve as supervisors of the victory gardens in their districts: Charles Linder, Ben Campbell, Wilber Ramsey, Nick Casillo, Dr. Norris White, E. A. Whiteman and John Robinson.

The victory garden campaign is national in scope and under the supervision of the garden committee of the United States Department of Agriculture and the Offices of Defense Health and Welfare Services.

There are certain cautions about the garden program which Washington has sent Mr. Rentz, and he and his assistants are very anxious to impress on New Castle people that a garden must not be planted just for the sake of having a garden.

Despite the fact that "war" gardens are being stimulated in many cities there is no food emergency now to warrent backyard gardening under the unfavorable conditions that prevail in cities. From the standpoint of efficiency and conservation of supplies, the gardens will be better handled by farmers and suburban gardeners who know what it is all about. The money, time and energy expended on city gardening are usually far in excess of the value of the product and it seems far more desirable to apply the enthusiasm for city gardening to the improvement of yards, and not to destroy lawns and other ornamental plantings for the sake of growing a few vegetables.

If you have any doubt as to whether you would waste your time on a garden because of your location, any of the district supervisors will be glad to give you advice.

The major goals of the campaign is to get better gardens in the places where gardens may best be planted. Emphasis is placed on vegetables that the richest in vitamins; most productive and easily grown. Especially is vitamin C lacking in a great many American diets; the victory garden program should encourage the planting of cabbage and tomatoes to make up this deficiency. Fruit gardens are also very much encouraged.

General Cummins Explains History Of Army Salute

(International News Service)

CHICAGO — With restoration of the salute between commissioned officers and enlisted men when outside of the limits of a military post, camp or station, history and meaning of the custom were explained by Maj. Gen. J. M. Cummins, commanding the Sixth Corps Area.

From the beginning of military history, officers and soldiers have used some form of salute as a token of recognition and respect and as a token of peaceful intentions. Medieval knights exchanged salutes by raising the face covering of their helmets to make recognition possible.

Military men and swordsmen of the 14th and 15th centuries exposed their sword hilts by throwing open their cloaks when meeting other men as a means of extending courtesy. In other periods the upraised hand or some other form of salutation was the equivalent of the present military token.

In its present form in the United States Army, the salute is executed by raising the right hand smartly until the tip of the forefinger touches the brim of the head dress, above and slightly to the right of the right eye. The salute is executed by an enlisted man when the officer he is saluting is six paces distant or at his nearest point of approach if more than six paces.

In no way degrading, a well-executed military salute stamps a soldier as having self-respect and pride in his profession and duties, and is recognized universally in all armies.

Silver-Plated Food Cans May Soon Be In Style

(International News Service)

BUTTE, Mont.—It stretches the imagination—but the use of silver-plated cans by the food packing industry may not be far off, in the opinion of one western mining leader.

The man to whom the substitution of silver for increasingly-scarce tin appears a possibility is R. D. Leisk, manager of the Sunshine Mine at Kellogg, Idaho.

"Before the war is over, silver may be regarded as of much more strategic importance than now," Leisk told more than 350 mining men from Montana and Idaho at a meeting in Butte.

"Industrial consumption of silver almost has doubled in recent months and is being used as a replacement for tin," he said.

Urges Search For Minerals

Leisk suggested that the government subsidize exploration work in the search for strategic minerals to aid in the war effort.

The meeting at which Leisk spoke was one of a series called by the interior department and presided over by Oscar L. Chapman, assistant secretary.

Chapman told the mining men that the government "wants not only to help give the western states the opportunity they seek to serve more effectively in the war effort—the place their mineral resources warrant—but a larger place in the national economy."

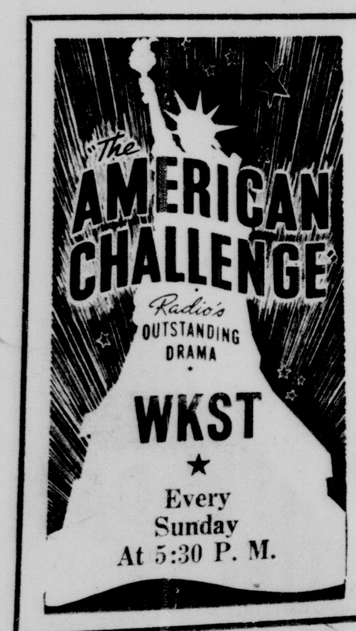

"That place," he added, "will be built around the cheap power and fuel of the west and its metals."

HEADS CONSERVATORY

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND — Boris Goldovsky, well known pianist and choral director, will assume his duties next fall as head of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, and head of the piano department of the Longy School of Music, Cambridge, Mass., it was announced recently.

For the last six years Goldovsky has headed the opera department of the Cleveland Institute of Music.

Lions And Ladies Have Spring Fete

Spring Victory Ball And Dinner Takes Place In The Castleton

GOOD PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

Lions and their ladies to the number of 90 gathered in The Castleton Wednesday evening for the Tail Twister's spring victory ball, which proved another delightful occasion.

George Winter, Jr., was general chairman, with Frank C. Clobus the Tail Twister. President Harding H. Thayer presided and introduced Numa F. Vidal as toastmaster.

After the inner man had been thoroughly satisfied, the program began, the masterly address of Tail Twister Clobus, in which he bared the lives of many of the members, particularly in their weaker moments, evoked considerable merriment, even if it was transcribed.

C. L. Schmitt, district deputy of New Kensington, with his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Rentz were special guests.

Mr. Schmitt, assisted by James G. Leslie, President Harding H. Thayer and Dr. Thomas M. Shaffer, presented awards to the 42 members who have had perfect attendance records for the 32-week contest period.

Ten-year Monarch chevrons were presented to Dr. R. G. Campbell and Paul G. Dingledy; and Melvin Jones birthday awards for membership additions were given President Thayer, Dr. T. J. Fletcher, A. W. Meek, Dr. T. M. Shaffer, Art Graham and G. W. Whittaker. The Lions Key award for two members in 12 months went to A. W. Meek, while individual member plaques for outstanding service went to Pete Mancine and Art Meek.

The committees in charge of arrangements were:

Food, Frank Clobus, Charles Lumley; program, Numa Vidal, Art Graham; decorations, Dr. Arthur Borland, Dr. Travis French; flowers, George D. Reid, Gearge Winter, Jr.; favors, Charles Streib, Frank Clobus; music, Harding Thayer, Dr. Arthur Borland; attendance, A. W. Meek.

It was announced that the regional meeting will take place in Rochester on Thusday evening, May 14, when the club will make an effort to have a 100 per cent attendance. They will go to the Beaver county meeting in a body.

New Castle Leads Naval Recruiters

Chief Petty Officer D. C. Ritchie, New Castle naval recruiting officer, revealed today that the New Castle naval recruiting station is leading all other sub-stations in the Western Pennsylvania area in naval enlistments.

At the same time, Ritchie announced that two more New Castle men had joined the navy.

They are: Robert George Marks, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Marks, R. D. No. 6, and Robert Joshua Morgan, 910 Adams street. Both young men enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

MERCER COUNTY NATIVE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH
(International News Service)

GREENVILLE, Pa., May 8—Lynn Patterson, who was killed in the crash of an airliner at Salt Lake City last week, was a native of Mercer county. He was born in South Shenango township, and had lived in Tama, Ia., for several years.

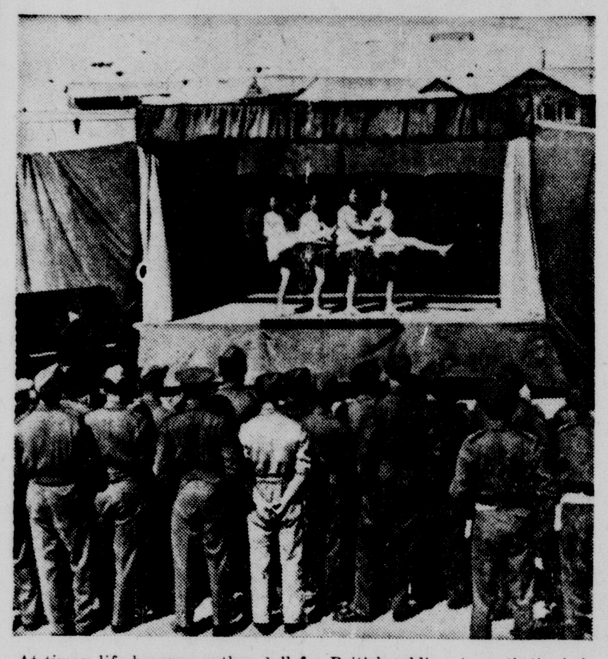

Patterson and his wife had flown to Seattle to visit their son, Charles, 24, on his birthday but learned that he had been transferred to another camp when they arrived. Patterson started for home again, but his wife stayed in Seattle for a visit.

Thomas Jefferson's wife was Martha Skelton, widow of Bathhurst Skelton, and daughter of John Wayles.

Columbus Society Planning Program

Mother's Day Event To Be Featured Sunday Evening For Members, Wives Mothers

At a recent meeting of the Christopher Columbus Society, plans were made for a Mother's Day program to be held on May 10, in the hall, South Liberty street.

Activities will start at 7 o'clock, and will include members, wives and their mothers. A delicious lunch will be served later in the evening, and following a dance will be featured, music to be provided by a local orchestra.

General chairman for this event is Frank Dattilo, and other committees will be announced later.

Supper Planned By Society Members

Plans are rapidly coming to a completion for the "sofrito supper" which is being held by St. Margarets' society, Saturday evening, in the St. Margaret's hall, North Liberty street.

All members and their wives will attend, and an informal program is being planned after the meal. Serving will start promptly at 7 o'clock.

Bartolomeo Lombardo, president, is general chairman, and he is being assisted by vice-president, Mike Lambiasi. Other committees will be announced later.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED ON SOCIETY GROUNDS

Rain which fell within the past few days seems to be doing much for the grass and trees surrounding the Christopher Columbus grounds, South Liberty street.

Much improvement is noted in the four Chinese elms which were planted recently, also the five pine trees, which will provide necessary shade this summer.

Announcement was made that a flag pole will be erected on the grounds in the near future.

VAULTED THE HEDGE

Quite a number of persons stopped off at the Fishowitz home on North Liberty street, Wednesday, to view the result of the accident, caused when an automobile left the road and crashed into the side of the house. The car must have vaulted the hedge from the sidewalk curb, before striking the house, as the hedge was unhurt.

BRIDGE NOT OPENED

Pa Newc strolled out of his territory recently and visited down in the ward district, where it was noticed that several motorists insisted on driving over the Cherry street bridge, in spite of the fact that it has not officially been opened.

CHURCH GROUPS TO HAVE COMMUNION

Members of the Holy Rosary society and the Immaculate Conception Sodaltiy of St. Lucy's church, which are the mothers and daughters church groups, respectively, will attend holy communion in a body Sunday morning, May 10.

The groups will attend the 8:30 o'clock mass with Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito as celebrant.

Mrs. T. C. Rainey is president of the Holy Rosary society and Flossie Masone is president of the young girls' group, the Immaculate Conception Sodality.

SUGAR REGISTRATION

About 1100 persons were registered at the Mahoning school Monday and secured sugar ration cards. Tuesday the number increased and Wednesday the persons at the registration tables were busier still; there was very little opportunity to go out for lunch. It is expected that today, the last day, there will be a large registration; this will include people with surnames commencing with letters from R to Z. There will possibly be a number who will register today who failed to do so during the day in which their names appeared. There were 20 persons in charge of the registration on Wednesday. It is expected that there are about 7000 persons in the ward entitled to sugar ration cards.

INJURES FINGER

LeRoy Jones, of 919 Cascade street suffered a laceration of the middle finger while at work at the Pennsylvania railroad shops, Wednesday morning. Mr. Jones was removing cross bar diaphragms from a pile, when a wooden block holding them in place slipped, and his finger was caught under one of the heavy pieces. He was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital for his injury.

MOTHERS' DAY PROGRAM

At the Madison Avenue Christian church, there will be a short Sunday school session, commencing at 9:45 a. m. This will be followed by a program consisting of readings, recitations, and special music. The mothers present will be given special recognition at this morning service. Robert Park, Sunday school superintendent, will be in charge.

Company B Is Inspected

U. S. Army Officer Gives Compliments To Condition Of Local Armory

Joseph V. Cunningham Armory was characterized as the "finest and best kept armory I have been in" by Lt. Col. Lucius McKay Crumrine of the U. S. Army who inspected Company B, 3rd Regiment, Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps. With Lt. Col. Crumrine were Col. Robert G. Woodside, commanding officer, Lt. Col. W. S. Hagar, Major Frank A. Weber. Captain Lester W. McClelland was present as commanding officer of the company.

At six o'clock a dinner was held for the inspection party in the Castleton Hotel. From there the party went to the armory. The company drilled as a single unit, in platoon and squad formation, and physical properties were inspected.

Following the inspection Lt. Col. Crumrine spoke to the company. "You are to be congratulated upon your military bearing and your cheerful co-operation in this work" said he. "Your commanding officers find their jobs easier when they have men of your calibre in the ranks. We all have a job to do and just now your job is perfecting this company. I know you will do it."

Speaking to the company Col. Woodside said "none of us know what tomorrow will bring. But we do know our job today and we are trying to do it. You men come out here week after week to drill and you have done an excellent job of organization and drill."

A buffet lunch was served in the dining hall of the armory following the inspection.

TENT HALL

P. T. A. OFFICERS ELECTED

Mrs. McFarlane, the teacher, was in charge of the program. W. E. Ferver, from New Castle, showed interesting and beautiful pictures of spring flowers in their gardens; also some of their vacation trips. It was one of the most enjoyable evenings of the year.

During the business meeting the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Clarence Campbell; vice president, Frank Hoffmeister; secretary, Mrs. Carl Phillips; treasurer, Mrs. Clifford Bates.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

In honor of the 25th wedding aniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird, Ralph and Ruth held "open house" from seven to nine p. m.

Spring flowers wer emuch in evidence throughout the house, while some beautiful pieces were sent as gifts.

The reception table was covered with a linen cloth, a large wedding cake forming the centerpiece, with white tapers in silver holders on either side; also a bowl of tulips, roses and snapdragons added to the decorations. Mrs. Elmer Armstrong and Mrs. Clyde Moore poured. Betty and Alice Baird assisted in the dining room. Mary Eleanor Kretzer was in charge of the guest book. Marjorie Mumaw presided over the gift table.

During the evening 275 guests were received. Those coming from a distance were: Rev. A. G. Montgomery and family, of Linesville, Pa.; Rev. O. L. Kuhn and family, of Meridian, Pa.; Mrs. Weir McConnell, Mrs. J. R. McNarry, Misses Margaret and Josephine McNarry and George Hayes, all of Canonsburg, Pa.

TENT HALL NOTES

Mrs. Lela Matheny, of Jacksonville, Fla., is here visiting her brother, Clarence Campbell, and family.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dickson and Mrs. Margaret Callander, of New Bedford, visited Mrs. H. C. Kretzer Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird were honored Saturday evening by her brothers and sisters gathering, surprise fashion, at their home to remind them of their 25th wedding anniversary May 5. A silver service for eight was presented the honored guests. Mr. and Mrs. Baird are both active in the church and community, and the high esteem they are held in by their friends was shown by the many beautiful gifts of silver.

Select 21 Athletes For Qualifying Meet

New Castle Entries Physically Fit For W.P.I.A.L. Event Friday Afternoon

JAMBOREE BILLED FOR BEAVER FALLS

Coach "Bill" Klee today selected 21 New Castle High athletes to participate in the W.P.I.A.L. qualifying track meet booked for Reeves field, Beaver Falls, Friday afternoon starting at 1 o'clock.

Unable to secure automobile or bus transportation, the athletes will have to make the short trek by train, leaving the P. & L. E. station at 10:02 a. m. Faculty Manager Norman "Scoots" Nelson announced today.

Participants qualifying during tomorrow's valley jamboree will be eligible to compete in the district scholastic classic, the W.P.I.A.L. meet, billed for Pittsburgh on Saturday, May 16.

The "Hurricane" thinclads represent an unusually talented lot. William "Bill" Paradise, a 440-yard and half-mile runner, has copped every race in which he has competed and has displayed improvement daily.

Russ Currie, named to vie in the century run, 220-yard dash and the broad jump, looms as another standout. Bobby Lee is a weight man with rare ability.

New Castle's entries in the meet:

Russ Currie, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and broad jump.

Ten Horse Field For Pimlico Race

Preakness Extravaganza Saturday Will Be Worth $80,000 To Winner

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Md., May 7.—A 10-horse field, including Shut Out, Kentucky Derby winner, seemed likely today for the Preakness which will be run Saturday at Pimlico.

If they all go postward, the race will be worth slightly more than $80,000, with interest in the mile and three-sixteenths test centering on whether Shut Out can make another step toward a place among the select few which have won the "triple crown"—the Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes.

Wayne Wright, who was aboard Shut Out in the Kentucky Derby, probably will have the mount again in the Preakness, with Eddie Arcaro slated to go again aboard Devil Diver, the other Whitney entry.

Sun Again, a last minute scratch from the Derby, probably will run in the Preakness and will be among the standout favorites, if he goes. Ben Jones, trainer for the Calumet Farm, gives his charge an even chance to go to the post.

Other probable starters include Alsab, Apache, Colchis, Domingo, Fair Call, Requested and Valdina Orphan.

Yankees Waltz Into Top Step

Bombers Blank Cleveland 3-0; "Bobo" Newsom Pegs One-Hit Sparkler

CHICAGO WHITE SOX HUMBLED AGAIN, 3-1

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 7.—Right back in front of the American league race today, where they have felt happily at home for five of the last six years, are the New York Yankees. They waltzed into the lead yesterday with a 3 to 0 victory over the Cleveland Indians in which the McCarthy men scored their fifth straight triumph. Ernie Bonham his second shutout within a week, the Indians suffered their fourth defeat in a row and Jim Bagby his first beating of the budding season after winning five straight.

But the highlight of the afternoon, the drama dripping with human interest was Bucky Newsom's one-hit performance at the expense of his former teammates, the Detroit Tigers. It was the first one-hitter of the season and if Bucky gloated as his Washington Senator mates banged out a 7 to 0 triumph behind his inspired pitching, you couldn't blame Bucky who has made more stops in the major leagues than a Bronx local.

Gets Sweet Revenge

When the Tigers let Bucky go after he performed the unamazing feat of losing 20 games last year and after being offered a cut in salary that would make a Christmas turkey look like a whole bird, he vowed revenge on the Bakermen. Yesterday's victory was the fourth of the year against three defeats for Bucky, so it seems he is well on the way to sweet revenge.

In other American league games, the Boston Red Sox humbled the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 1, with Joe Dobson besting the venerable Ted Lyons in a pitching duel. Bobby Doerr did yeoman work for Joe, clouting two home runs, his circuit smash in the tenth with a mate aboard breaking up the ball game. Leo Walls, Chicago shortstop, belted a homer for the losing cause. Dobson and Lyons each allowed six hits.

Eldon Auker held the Philadelphia Athletics to seven blows as his mates pounded out 12 to give the St. Louis Browns a 7 to 2 win. Roger Wolff started for the A's and was charged with the defeat. Glen McQuillen contributed three hits, including a double, to the winners' attack and drove in three runs.

In the only game in the National league, the rest being postponed, the St. Louis Cardinals appeared to have regained their old dash and fire with an 11 to 2 victory over the bedraggled Philadelphia Phils. Si Johnson and Cy Blanton were felled by the heavy fire of the Red Birds after St. Louis put together 14 hits on which all 11 runs were tallied during the first five innings.

Mort Cooper scored his second victory of the season but missed a shutout when he loosed a wild pitch. His miscue and an error by Martin Marion gave the Phils their brace of runs. Terry Moore and Enos Slaughter each hit their first home runs of the year. It was Moore's circuit clout that started things popping in the third inning when the Cards bagged six runs off seven hits.

New York State Kegler Rolls 729

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., May 7.—Marking the first change among the high 10 leaders in 10 days, Charles Cheavacci of Akron, N. Y., occupied ninth place in the singles column today at the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Cheavacci, in rolling 729 yesterday, gave the tournament its 26th singles score of 700 or over, a new record. Twenty-five of 700 or better were rolled at the tournament last year in St. Paul.

Cheavacci's games were 203, 278 and 248.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Sports trail melody:

Asked to comment regarding the future of scholastics during the war, Ralph H. Gardner, who has devoted more than two decades to high school sports, foresees a "go ahead" sign before footballs are jammed with air. Succinctly, here's the analysis provided by the ex-faculty manager:

"Physical fitness is being stressed like it never was before. What can benefit a growing boy more than the training in football, basketball or any other sport? Uncle Sam needs soldiers. These boys are all future soldiers. If athletics are continued as in the past, these young men will go into the army physically fit. They won't be if the sports program is slashed. For this reason, I think provisions will be made."

Second Lieutenant Ross Bridenbaugh concludes a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phil H. Bridenbaugh, today. Norman Nocera, another south sider to win football chevrons at New Castle high, has joined the U. S. navy and is stationed at Newport, R. I., as a yeoman third class.

The Chicago White Sox regulars average about 29 years. Their manner of play since the opening of the season is enough to make one suspect that they've been recruited from an old age home. The P. G. Cincy Purchases Shoun, Outfielder

Cardinal Pitcher, Columbus Outfielder Figure In Transaction Wednesday

CINCINNATI, May 7—With an eye toward bolstering their lineup, the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday did a little shopping and selling.

On the buying end, the sixth place Reds bought Clyde (Five O'Clock) Shoun from the St. Louis Cardinals and one of the most promising hitters in the American Association, Max Marshall of Columbus.

Pitcher Shoun, 27, used mostly in relief roles, won three and lost five last season. He is a southpaw.

Marshall, who batted in 101 runs, goes to the Reds in return for Jim Gleeson, an option on "Chuck" Aleno, budding third sacker, and cash.

Lloyd Moore, a Cincy pitcher, was peddled to Rochester in a cash deal. The opinion of Outfielder Eddie Lukon, up from Knoxville, was shifted from Syracuse to Columbus.

City Baseball Loop Adopts "Keep 'Em Playing" Slogan; Meet Wednesday

LOOP INAUGURATES SEASON ON SUNDAY

Determined to "keep 'em playing" despite encumbrances resulting from the pressure of war, City Baseball league officials and managers completed plans for Sunday's opening program, during a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening.

During the session, Charles A. Landolf, New Castle sports writer, stressed the importance of publicity and assured the moguls that, with cooperation from managers and officials, The News will go "all-out" in the interest of local baseball. He asked that reports be turned in early and that items be written legibly.

Seven of the eight teams forwarded player contracts. The eighth club will do likewise this afternoon. President Mike Donovan read the names of the players who have autographed documents.

"Hop" Colaluca, the loop's schedule maker, presented most of the first half card. The likeable Croton avenue sportsman announced Sunday's opening games as follows:

Slovaks at Bessemer, Bessemer high field.

West Pittsburg at Elders, Marshall field, Scott street.

Sunday games will start promptly at 3 o'clock.

Secretary "Jake" Babovsky checked numerous details attached to the opening day program and learned that the local aggregations are all set to start swinging.

The importance of baseball as a morale lifter during the war was carefully studied and discussed before and after the session. With this in mind, the moguls joined hands toward providing clean, wholesome recreation for baseball lovers.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 7.—Joe DiMaggio admited today that he has been practicing over-time on his hitting, which is approximately the same as Einstein adding up a column of figures just to keep his hand in.

DiMaggio has not been going any too well and decided that he had better go into a special workout to take care of the slump. That was Monday. Tuesday, he hit two home runs and a triple to help the Yankees engulf the Chicago White Sox and decided that everything is going to be all right after all.

"Sure I worked out extra time," he said. "I figured I needed it. No, I don't know whether the workout did me any good or not—all I know is that I was hitting Tuesday."

DiMaggio is still a shy, conservative fellow who seems uncertain whether he should accept all this at face value or coast along for a few years and see what happens. He seems never able to realize that he is one of the great ball players of all times.

"Oh, I'll hit all right before the season ends," he says, then he adds "You watch that Ted Williams of Boston. He went 0 for 12 in one stretche this season and everybody was saying what's happened to him, and I was saying wait until the end of the season and see where he is."

What DiMaggio seems to mean is that Williams will be a contender for the battling title again. He only hit above .400 last season!

Picks Boston Second

DiMaggio thinks the Red Sox will finish second in the American league race and thinks it might be a pretty good tussle. The Red Sox have come up with some pretty good pitching from gents like Yank Terry and Oscar Judd to off-set losses to the service.

"That Terry is a good pitcher," DiMaggio said. "He now has control, a curve and a slider and he is hard to hit—he's a control pitcher. He's going to win some ball games for the Sox. You watch him."

DiMaggio said he thought Detroit had a good club, too, after having opposed them, but he didn't know anything about Cleveland up to now.

"The one thing I know about Cleveland is that they can stop me any time they have a guy named Mel Harder around," DiMaggio said. Harder is the pitcher who has given DiMaggio more trouble than any other one in the majors and that includes Bob Feller, now in the navy.

"I never had much trouble against Feller," DiMaggio said. "He was a fine pitcher, but that Harder had my number. He was too tough for me and I will be delighted not to meet him again."

DiMaggio thinks that two home runs and a triple performance has set him under way. He wasn't exactly in a slump but he hasn't been a great ball of fire either due to some faulty touch to his batting technique.

He is concerned over his seeming slump and as a result he probably won't hit much over .380 this season.

Add Brown-Marshall To Pitt Fight Card

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 8.—Holding promise of one of those pier six brawls, another 10-round bout featuring Mose Brown of McKeesport and Texas Jack Marshall of Dallas has been added to the card for Pittsburgh's first outdoor show of the season on May 25, it was disclosed today.

Both boys are standup sluggers. Marshall made a hit with local fans last winter when he took all of big Harry Bobo's dynamite for three rounds, and still fought back before finally collapsing from the terrific punishment he absorbed.

Other bouts already arranged will have Charley Burley of Pittsburgh, with 26 straight victories, square off against Ken Overlin, and Sgt. Mike Raffa meeting Joey Archibald, former featherweight champion.

More Brown Trout To Arrive Saturday

H. N. Drio, secretary of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association, today announced that another stocking of brown trout for Little Neshannock will arrive at the New Wilmington post office on Saturday morning about 11 o'clock.

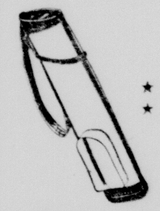

Persons desiring to help stock the close to 800 beauties are asked to call 811 and ask for Mr. Drio.

Drio also received word today from C. A. French, commissioner of fisheries, informing him that the Spring Creek Project will open on Friday, May 15, and continue until Saturday, July 18.

The project is located on any main highway route to Bellefonte.

Uncork "Golf Bus" Plan In New York

Bus Run Will Permit Auto Owners To Store Cars And Same Time Enjoy Sport

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, May 7.—You may have not been too concerned about the effects of the government gas rationing program on your private life yet, buddy, but sports and the people who make them run are letting no grass grow under their feet. Golf and baseball have taken the lead today in planning the best means to keep interest alive in their sport when those tires start to wheeze and the old tanks start screaming for sustenance.

At a special meeting, called by directors of various golf clubs and representatives of sporting goods houses, A plan was approved yesterday to have a bus run inaugurated from upper Manhattan here on which New Yorkers could visit any one of four Long Island clubs.

Fare would be only $1.00 round trip per person and customers would be guaranteed a starting time and arrival time at their favorite course.

The plan was suggested by Henry Modell, well-known sports merchant, who felt something would have to be worked out soon to insure the city's golfers adequate and cheap transportation.

It was agreed by all present that once gas rationing went into effect (the east gets it on May 15) there will be a crying need for comfortable and rapid transportation. The first test of the idea will take place on May 13, starting at 9:30 a. m. from the Park Central hotel in mid-town Manhattan.

Idea May Spread

If the idea clicks, and almost everyone at the meeting thought sure it would, arrangements will be made by the other clubs (and this plan includes not only private, but also the semi-private and municipal golf courses) to arrange a regular bus schedule.

Meanwhile the baseball people released a statement which pointed out that lack of gas or tires should not keep fans away from their favorite ball park.

Baseball wants you to know that ever since the game became popular in the 1880's ball parks were built with an eye on the nearest rail or trolley lines—not on automobiles or any other form of transportation and that the rule still holds good today.

The "golf bus" plan is expected to catch on here and undoubtedly will be put into effect, either intact or in some modified form, wherever the game is played.

Whether this one clicks or not it is a step in the right direction and definitely shows sports is on the alert and determined to keep things hopping in this time of great emergency.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Frankie Moran, local southpaw knock-'em-over, will battle in the next amateur fistic show here. It will be his first fight in several months. Moran injured a mauler and wisely laid off the game until his hand healed. Frankie is the best southpaw the city has had. He is also the best puncher. He has been a consistent performer and fans will be glad to see him back in action.

This is the second year in more than 20 that the Lawrence County Baseball League has not swung into action. Back in the early 20's a situation arose that caused moguls to taboo the loop for a year. With four teams in the loop that would be forced to travel officials could not see how this could be done in days of rubber and gasoline rationing.

Frankie Ross, umpire, is requested to call the writer, Ed Fritz. We have an offer for his services. . . . St. Vincent is going good on the diamond having won their straight consecutive game when St. Vincent beat West Virginia, 6 to 5, at Greensburg. . . . Lulu Constantino, New York East Sider, will seek his fifty-seventh consecutive professional ring victory tonight when he meets Chalky Wright, New York, recognized featherweight champion in a non-title bout.

When the fifth annual tri-state district college track and field meet is held in Reeves stadium, Beaver Falls, Saturday, efforts will be made to form a permanent track conference. The annual title meet is staged by the various entries on a co-operative basis at present and is not sponsored by any definite organization. W. & J. captured the 1941 meet.

Billy Reale, amateur heavyweight boxer, last night defeated Franklin Moore of Akron in five rounds in a Warren, O., ring. He floored the Akronite for a count of nine in the fourth round. However, Babe Leasure of this city, dropped a five round decision to Jimmie Varkett of Ashtabula, in the best fight of the night. Each of the rounds was of two minutes duration. Tommy Leach, J.A.C., handled the boxers.

Ford Frick, president of the National league has gone on the offensive and intends to enforce an anti-squawk rule. Managers and players who continue to violate the rules of baseball will be suspended. Managers, coaches and players were told before the season started to not rush upon the field to protest when an umpire called ball and strike decisions at the plate.

Boy Scout Council Arranges Activities

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—The Ellwood district Boy Scout Council gathered Tuesday night in the Scout room of the City building, with President Boyd Barrett in charge.

Plans were announced for a district camporee to be held in June, and for the county camporee to be held at Camp Phillips on June 19 and 20.

Arrangements are about completed for the summer camp to be held this year jointly at Camp Phillips, from June 28 to August 2, with Howard Gills and Harold Burry, this city, as co-directors. Applications will be sent to the troops next week, and Scouts are urged to sign up early, as a capacity crowd is anticipated.

Leadership training John Houk announced that the special training classes will resume next week at the school. A special conference will be held on May 23 at the George Washington school, New Castle, beginning with a dinner at 6:30 p. m.

S. C. Mullin announced the presentation of the charter to the Christian church Cub pack and stated that another may be organized soon at the Lutheran church.

The Eagle Court of Honor will be held on Thursday, June 11, at the high school auditorium. It will be parents' night, and the troop with the largest representation will be given a prize. Because the time has been changed, Scouts may have a total of six instead of the usual three merit badges. In future all courts will be held at the high school, instead of the churches.

District Commissioner Elden Danner announced the formation of a new troop at Knox, to be known as troop 15.

Senior Class Prom Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7—Social activities for the Senior class of the local high school to be graduated late this month will begin on Friday evening, and will be the senior prom to be held in the Lincoln gym.

The dance is given by the Senior B class for the graduates and members may bring guests of the lower grades. Parents of students are especially invited.

Superintendent of Schools J. Ellis Bell, said today that he was particularly anxious to have parents cooperate in keeping the young people off the highway after the dance by arranging some kind of entertainment at the homes. Mr. Bell said that three fatal accidents of high school students had occurred in similar occasions in the Pittsburgh area in the past three weeks, and he asks that parents limit the young people in the use of cars and gas.

SANKEY W. C. T. U.

ELLWOOD CITY, Maq 7.—Because of the mother and daughter banquet at the Knox Presbyterian church, the May meeting of the Sankey W. C. T. U. has been changed from Friday to Monday, May 11. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Jennings, North Sewickley, with Mrs. Charles Hauserman as leader.

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—The first card party in the second series was held Tuesday night by the American Legion Auxiliary as a benefit for the welfare work.

Eleven tables were in play, with high awards going to Mrs. N. J. Bauer and Mrs. Frank Lemery, for auction, and Mrs. Arthur McElwain and Mrs. Stella Mook, for 500. Mrs. Walter Simpson won the door prize.

Mrs. James Goodwill was in charge, and her aides were Mrs. W. T. Roys, Mrs. Oscar Bair and Mrs. J. McRugh, and they served lunch. The second party will be held on Tuesday, May 19.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Wednesday

One Hundred Attend Enjoyable Event At Immanuel Reformed Church

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—With exactly one hundred in attendance, a most enjoyable mother and daughter tribute took place last evening at the Immanuel Reformed church.

The delicious dinner was served by the young ladies' classes at festively appointed tables.

Mrs. H. F. Loch presided as toastmaster and the program included: Toast to the daughters, Mrs. Emil Forsythe; toast to the mothers, Mrs. Charles McKim; piano solo, Velva Miller; piano solo, Lois Forsythe; duet, Caroline and Iona Faye Loch; piano solo, Vera Jean Metz. Group singing was led by Mrs. Russell Sitler.

Featuring the program was a fine pageant entitled, "Mothers Of America," and those taking part were: Mrs. Lee Shirey, Mrs. Harry Shirey, Betty Amalong, Anna Cross, Lois Forsythe, Shirley Gaiser, Ella May Amalong, Mrs. Elvie Amalong and daughter Karen, Myrtle and Peggy McKim and Vera Jean Metz.

Lovely gifts were presented by Mrs. F. D. Powell to Mrs. Matilda Scheidemantle, the oldest mother; Mrs. Robert Mickley, the youngest mother; Mrs. Robert Hodgson, the youngest grandmother; and Karen Amalong, the youngest daughter. An unusual feature was the attendance of four generations of the Ricer family.

A meeting of the Women's Guild followed with plans being made to meet again on Thursday, June 4, for a social and business meeting at the church.

Surprise Honors Lillian Weller

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7 — Miss Lillian Weller was agreeably surprised last evening when a merry party for her fifteenth birthday anniversary was held by Mrs. Glenn Gallaher, at her home, in First avenue.

The evening was spent with bingo as the diversion and the nice ward was won by Irene Holmquist. During the evening, the group was entertained with motion pictures.

In serving a tempting luncheon featured a pretty birthday cake, the hostess was aided by Miss Dorothy Weller. The home was attractively decorated with lilacs.

The guest of honor was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Women Of Moose Enjoy Dinner

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—Last evening after their regular meeting, members of the Women of the Moose enjoyed a mother and daughter dinner.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

This is the last day for sugar registration . . . The schools have been mighty busy the first three days and nights of this week . . . talked with several of the teachers and housewives who have helped with this work and they say that not many people have over the required amount of sugar on hand. Some have said they have five or six pounds more than they should . . . If any one is caught telling a lie the yare to be fined ten thousand dollars . . . Well, it will all be over but the shouting tonight . . . then gasoline and the like will be dealt out with stamps . . . We Americans feel that if this cutting down will help our boys . . . let's cut down on a lot of other things . . . The United Tatioins must win this war and win it quikly.

The Boy Scouts are starting out this spring with a good heavy schedule of events . . . or maybe we had better call them campaigns. They are going to rid the waters of the County or at least the surrounding territory of water snakes. They had a very successful season last year and they hope to do even better this spring and summer . . . they also expect to carry on with the destroying of "tent caterpillers" . . . quite a few have been appearing on the trees of this section. Then they have their own work of learning scouting and then it won't be long until camping season will be here . . . In the good old summer time . . . boys have fun and thus grow into good American Citizens.

New Castle is really making a record on the Scrap Iron and the like program. The tonnage is really growing into large numbers and if we are not too wrongly informed should be pushing Pittsburgh for a top position. Again we say New Castle is on The March.

Next Sunday is "Mother's Day" . . . let's stop and think about "mother". What she has done in the past in times of sickness and good health. At all times she has been ready to help . . . She keeps the household running and meals the tastiest of all. That is the way mother does it and has done it for years. But, what of the modern mother of today . . . Can she hold her family by getting her meals out of a can and by playing bridge all afternoon every afternoon . . . Can she raise her children properly by having a "stranger" keep them all the time?

Friday will be given to missionary interest when an institute will be held with Mrs. Ruth Zimmerman of Erie, a returned missionary, speaking.

Saturday, at 1:15 p. m., the business session will be held. Saturday evening, the service will be in charge of the District Young People with the president, Rev. Howard Rose, presiding. Rev. H. V. Webb of New Middleton, O., will speak.

Sunday morning, following Sunday school, there will be an old-fashioned Methodist love-feast with an address by the District Superintendent, Rev. L. J. Lindsey, after which the Sacrament will be observed. Sunday afternoon, with the Young people in charge, there will be a missionary meeting with Mrs. Mary O. Schlosser, recently returned from China, as speaker. Sunday evening will mark the close of the conference.

Reception Friday At Lutheran Church

To Honor New Members And Observe Pastor's Anniversary At Church Party

On Friday evening at 8 o'clock St. Paul's Lutheran church, North Jefferson and Grant streets, will hold a congregational reception in honor of the 27 new members received since the beginning of the year, and also mark the observance of the 18th year of the present pastorate.

A special program of entertainment, consisting of vocal and instrumental numbers, has been prepared, featuring Rev. John P. Stump of Emsworth St. James Lutheran church, Pittsburgh area, as the speaker. He is a son of Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Stump of St. Paul's church.

A special period with refreshments will be held in the Sunday school rooms afterwards under the auspices of the C-U Sunday Bible class, consisting of young married couples.

Mild Recovery In Day's Market

Gains Are Small However—Chrysler Records Gain Of Point

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 7.—The stock market experienced a mild recovery today in slow dealings. Gains, however, rarely exceeded a fraction.

Top gains were recorded by Chrysler up a point to above 56; DuPont up 1¼ to 108½; Union Carbide a point to 60; Westinghouse Electric ⅞ to 68⅞, and American Telephone a large fraction to almost 112.

Steels were most active, with Bethlehem and U. S. Steel up a good-sized fraction each. General Motors was in demand in the motors as was International Harvester in its group.

Other firm groups were the oils, rails, electrical equipments, aviation and mail order shares. Coppers and utilities showed signs of irregularity. Postal Telegraph preferred was a feature, reaching a new 1942 high.

Outside markets displayed a better tone also. Bonds moved slightly higher under leadership of second grade rails. U. S. Treasuries continued to recover. Grains edged fractionally higher, while cotton held about unchanged.

Donor Dinner For M. Feuchtwanger At Temple Wednesday

Speaker, Mrs. Albert J. May Of New York, Pays Tribute To Honored Guest In Address

Tribute was paid a distinguished citizen of New Castle on Wednesday evening, May 6, Marcus Feuchtwanger, President of Temple Israel since it was founded here sixteen years ago. The occasion marked the annual Donor Dinner event, honoring Mr. Feuchtwanger on his eightieth birthday anniversary.

A highlight was their guest speaker, Mrs. Albert J. May of New York City, whose message was most inspiring to the many in attendance, as she enfolded the superb qualities of their leader, and related the accomplishments of the organization locally and nationally.

Amidst a decorative setting, the patriotic theme being cleverly used throughout in the appointments, the assemblage of members, friends and guests numbering 120 were seated at the banquet tables. A delicious full course menu was served by the Youth Group under the direction of Mrs. H. Pitnoff, chairman. The tiere birthday cake which was prominently placed, was cut by the guest of honor, and later served.

Mrs. Harry Botwin presided as toastmistress. She had a novel broadcast station improvised, providing a unique system of presenting the evenings enttertainment.

Rabbi Leo Turitz offered the invocation; and welcome of the evening, was given by Mrs. Ed. Fisher, president of Temple Israel Sisterhood.

Toastmistress Mrs. Botwin turned the introduction of their guest speaker, Mrs. Albert J. May of New York, over to Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger.

Mrs. May, a member of the Executive Committee and the Executive Board of the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, the worlds largest Jewish Women's religious organizations, gave a most appealing address, which was warmly received.

Mrs. May paid tribute to Marcus Feuchtwanger, celebrating his 80th birthday. She used him as a valiant example of many such men, who with their wives, epitomized fulfillment in a life dedicated to greek faith.

She stated: "A faith built upon justice and righteousness in the world. Today transforms itself into the will for Victory. The desire to serve and a mandate to stand behind our armed forces; to live humbly and to give. To sacrifice for the needy and the oppressed." Mrs. May stressed religious education for the young and its renewal for the adult. She urged participation in the government plan for the winning of the war. Mrs. May pointed out that the Sisterhood program is valiant, truthful and educational. It teaches its members to be beautiful in character and courageous, and, to give themselves everything worthwhile" she concluded.

The program followed with a feature entitled, "What's My Name" being conducted by James Meyers, master of ceremonies. Members of the audience participated. The "Star Spangled Banner" was sung in unison, and also the State Sisterhood song, the words composed by Mrs. William Cosel. At intervals throughout the evening, a group of several other songs were enjoyed, the words being provided by Mrs. M. Schoenberger and Abe Levine. Mrs. Cosel and Abe Levine were accompanists throughout the evening.

The programs for the evening given as mementos were in the hands of Mrs. Ted Marlin; program chairman was Mrs. Abe Levine; music chairman, Mrs. M. Schoenberger; Donor Chairman, Mrs. David Silverman.

Many guests were present from out-of-town, to honor Mr. Feuchtwanger and to hear their noted and gracious speaker, Mrs. May. Mr. and Mrs. Abe Feuchwanger and family, son and daughter-in-law of the honored one attended from Philadelphia, while others represented Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls and Ellwood City.

First let's hang all business men who weaken our war effort for the sake of after-war business

Copper-Brass Use Is Banned In Many Things

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 7. — The War Production board today banned the use of copper, brass, or bronze in more than one hundred everyday civilian products, ranging from common household pin to air conditioning equipment.

Since the W.P.B. last week eliminated use of iron and steel in most of the same products, today's order means that the products probably will disappear from civilian life as other metals cannot be used as substitutes.

Under the order, the manufacture of copper, brass and bronze products must be discontinued after May 31. A statement accompanying the order said:

"Probably the greatest dislocation the order will cause will be by the ban on manufacture of the common household pin. Approximately one-third of the pins manufcatured in 1940 and 1941 were made of brass, with the remainder of steel. There is no ban on steel pins, but the rate of production is limited."

Other items hit by the order included bulbs and neon tubes for advertising and display purposes, bulbs and cords for Christmas trees, dog collars, fountain pens and musical instruments.

Meter Receipts Show Increase

Despite the garaging of cars because of tire rationing parking meter receipts here for the first four months of 1942 are larger than for the same period of 1941, according to City Treasurer C. C. McKibben.

He attributes the increase to the fact that autoists have come to a realization that if they fail to insert a nickel in a meter slot they will receive a "red tag."

The city treasurer also expressed the opinion that a more efficient patrol of meters is being made.

He said that for the April 13-May 4, inclusive period $1,381.35, was collected from the meters.

CITY TO PAY ITS OIL SHARE

Believes City Should Follow Same Practice As Citizens

It was decided today by city council, in action in the municipal building, that when citizens along any thoroughfare pay for oiling and the city owns land in the street the city should pay its proportionate share.

Recently council authorized Simon Lasky to oil lanes to cemeteries.

Lasky has filed a bond of $1,000 with the city for the performance of his work here.

Lasky has been engaged in this work here for years.

Chinese Inflict Heavy Casualties

(International News Service)

CHUNGKING, May 7.—Chinese forces have succesfully frustrated repeated Japanese attacks northeast of Wanting, inflicting heavy casualties, an official communique announced tonight.

Chinese guerilla units entered Canton on April 20, it was said, hurling many bombs which killed and wounded a number of Japanese sympathizers.

Twenty thousand Japanese have begun mopping up operations southwest of Shantung.

U. S. O. Performs Many Services For U. S. Forces

Mothers and fathers of our fighting men are finding that they have "deputies" in more than 600 USO clubs and service units scattered throughout the United States and in the off-shore bases, according to Roger W. Rowland, local chairman of the 1942 War Fund Campaign of USO.

Floods of letters reaching USO headquarters come from parents expressing gratitude for the work USO is doing in giving the men in uniform a "home-away-from-home", Mr. Rowland said. "The letters also show that nothing helps morale at home so much as a feeling of confidence that somebody is taking an individual interest in the men out front.

"This is one of the more personal aspects of USO clubs and operations. Next year, as a result of its approaching $32,000,000 War Fund Campaign, USO plans to have more than 900 clubs and smaller units."

Mr. Rowland pointed out that there is no end to the variety of requests that USO receives as friendly liaison officer between the service men and their families. He said, "a man stationed at the huge Fort Dix reservation contracted debts which had to be paid at once. He was being kept on duty at a remote spot in the camp and couldn't attend to the matter himself. At his request a USO woman worker wired his parents for the money and delivered it to the boy herself, taking part of her evening off to do so. "The soldier refunded the money to her later."

These substitute parents are recruited from USO's six member agencies, the Young Men's Christian Associations, the National Catholic Community Service, the Salvation Army, the Young Women's Christian Associations, the Jewish Welfare Board and the National Travelers Aid Association.

Another USO representative received a letter from a Jewish father who wanted his son, who had been drafted a year before and had not been home since, to return for Passover. The USO worker took the matter up with army authorities and the soldier was given a furlough.

Many directors make a point of sending cards to the parents of service men who call at USO clubs, Mr. Rowland said. Almost invariably the parents reply at some length. They usually apologize for taking the director's time, but say it means everything to correspond with someone who is seeing their son regularly and who regards him as an individual, not just as a soldier.

In one of these letters a father wrote: "Before he was drafted my boy wanted to become a physician. Now he thinks he won't ever have the opportunity and he wants to forget about it. I know he would be a good doctor and I wondered if there was any place in your city where he could study medicine in his spare time. I live in the country and I don't know much about those things."

Through USO, arrangements were made with a local hospital for the son to take medical courses at night. He proved so efficient that the army now has its eye on him for the medical corps.

A USO club near a Texas naval base has large registry cards on the wall, one for each state in the Union. In signing the cards sailors frequently contact friends from their home state who happen to be stationed in the region. The eighth Missouri card is now in use but the original still hangs. This is because an old man comes in to look at it every day. It bears the signature of his son who shipped out from the post several months ago and hasn't been heard from since.

When the Ford Dix reservation was enlarged, relatives visiting men in camp had no place to stay overnight. The local community of Wrightstown, N. J., had a permanent population of 150, while the post numbers many thousands. USO undertook a housing survey of the whole county and there now is an index, carefully kept up to date, of all quarters available to parents and other guests of the men in camp.

Neshannock Township Mass Meeting Monday

Meeting Called For Men Of Township To Report To Organize Auxiliary Squad

An important mass meeting is called for all men residing in Neshannock township to meet Monday night promptly at 8 o'clock in the Walmo school for the purpose of fully organizing an auxiliary fireman emergency squad.

It is for the interest of residents in the vicinity that the men report to get this important project underway.

Men of the township will begin plans for training in bomb fighting and other emergencies calling for informed leaders. They will be trained in the general set-up of the O.C.O., and will be taught fire fighting and the operating of the new equipment the township is securing. First aid and other important phases will also be considered.

James Messner and J. T. Allen will be in charge.

It is also announced that men of the local firedepartment of New Castle will be on hand from time to time, giving advanced instruction in any undertakings in which they may find the need of assistance.

Three Former Governors Will Run For Senate

(International News Service)

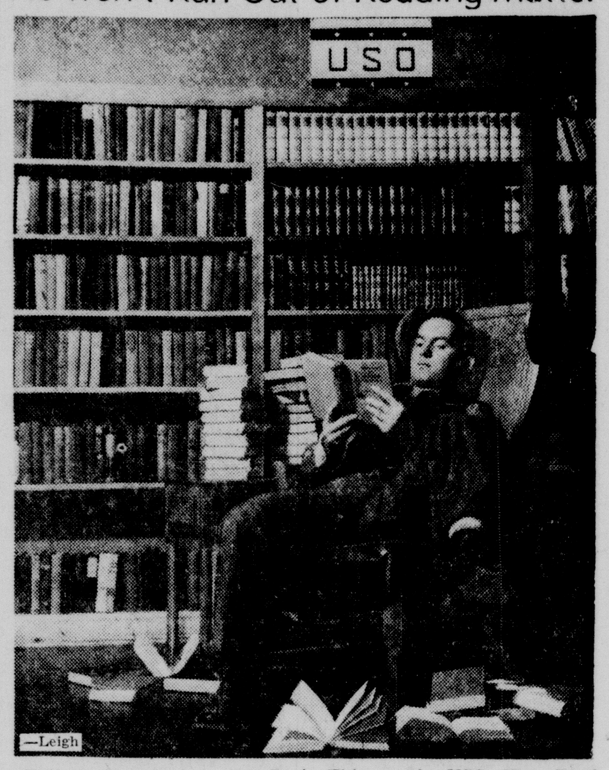

AUSTIN, Tex., May 7.—Two former governors — Federal Judge James V. Allred, 43, and Atty. Dan Moody, Austin, 48, announced as candidates for the U. S. Senate from Texas in opposition to another former governor, Senator W. Lee O'Daniel.

Former Governor Moody's announcement was telephoned to capitol correspondents from his downtown office minutes after a telegram was received announcing that Judge Allred had resigned his $10,000 a year job to enter the race.

The announcements brought politics, dormant so far this year, back to public interest with a bang.

Snakes do not charm birds, as generally supposed. The instinctive fear that a small bird or animal has for a snake paralyzes their muscles and prevents escape.

He Won't Run Out of Reading Matter

This is the picture in any one of hundreds of USO service men's clubhouses today—a tired young fighting man relaxed with a book in a library chair. This is one of the services USO is supplying to soldiers, sailors and marines in the nation's forces that will number more than 4,000,000 men before the year is out.

USO is headquarters for the Victory Book Campaign, a joint effort with the American Library Association and the American Red Cross to collect millions of books for the service men's literary bill of fare—fiction, textbooks, history. When USO made a survey to find out what the armed forces wanted to read, the answer was: "Everything!"—and the order is being filled.

This year's USO War Fund Campaign program includes operation of 450 clubhouses near army and navy stations, places where soldiers and sailors can have a shower, a bite to eat, see a movie or a stage show, listen to the radio or phonograph or make their own music on a piano. The clubhouses have reading and writing rooms and halls for dancing, as well as comfortable chairs and davenports for those who want to read, chat—or just sit.

Component agencies of USO are the Young Men's Christian Associations, the National Catholic Community Service, the Salvation Army, the Young Women's Christian Associations, the Jewish Welare Board and the National Travelers Aid Association.

THE SALVATION ARMY

The Salvation Army is an International organization: By many Americans, The Salvation Army is affectionately remembered as the organization which rendered unforgettable service during the war. By many, too, it is thought of as an organization which has done much good on local relief programs, and which holds services of an evangelistic nature, both in its halls and on neighboring street corners.

The frontiers of Army endeavor, however, stretch away and beyond a town, city, or even a country. In nearly every civilized corner of the world, and in many uncivilized places, it has set up its standard, preaching its simple gospel in many tongues and dialects and ministering to peoples of all races and colors. In the ancient capitals of Europe the aristocracy of the land, yea, even royalty, have gathered in those meetings dedicated to the winning of men and women to Christ, and the Salvationists have told no less eagerly the same message of saving grace to the common people of the hills and plains of India and Africa and the Isles of the Sea.

The Founder of this great movement, William Booth, himself set the key-note of internationalism when he said, "Every land is my fatherland, for every land is my Father's land." Born, as he was, in a provincial English city, before the radio and the airplane had brought the world to our front door, it was strange that this passion for other lands should burn in his soul, but burn it did, and to the very last days of his life the souls of men and women of every crime pressed before him their urgent claims.

This spirit was passed on to his officers. Men and women who had never traveled farther than the next town, went forth gladly to the uttermost ends of the earth, on Salvation Army service. Some became Salvation nomads, journeying from country to country in the interests of the Kingdom, until veritably every land became their fatherland.

Today, in different parts of the mission field, officers of every nationality work happily side by side—Scandinavian, English, Australian, German, Canadian—their national differences, if any, are forgotten. They are one in that great fellowship of the Cross.

International in scope and international in spirit, The Salvation Army forms a great and unique world-wide comradeship, united in aim, purpose and allegiance to the King or kings, whose motto is, "Christ for the World—The World for Christ."

Sodalists Plan To Attend Event

World Sodality Day To Be Observed In St. Paul's Cathedral, Pittsburgh, Sunday

Nine members of the Sodality of Our Lady of the Lawrence County Union of Sodality will play a prominent part in ceremonies commemorating World Sodality Day at St. Paul's Cathedral, Sunday, May 10, at 3 o'clock. The keynote of the day is the world-wide nature of its observance. It will unite in prayer the members of the Sodality of Our Lady in every land.

Appropriate prayers, ceremonies and music have been planned for the occasion. The sermon will be delivered by the Very Rev. J. A. Reeves, S. T. D., president of Seton Hill college, Greensburg. Dr. Reeves' career as an educator and public speaker has brought him national fame. He has held various offices in educational associations and he is in constant demand as a speaker at religious and civic assemblies.

The program has been arranged by the Diocesan Sodality Council in cooperation wtih the 350 parishes of the ten-county diocese of Pittsburgh. It is planned as a testimonial to the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Mother of God, whom the Bible declares to be "blessed among women". It is through her intercession that Sodalists will direct their prayers on Sunday for world peace and victory for America. For centuries Catholic young women through their Sodality membership, have dedicated themselves to her and to her ideals in a very affectionate and practical way.

Most Rev. Hugh C. Boyle, D. D. Bishop of Pittsburgh, will preside at the World Sodality Day ceremonies in the Cathedral and address the congregation. The program will be concluded with the benediction of the most blessed sacrament.

Most of the mines in Bolivia are now working at capacity.

You adult fat people may often slim down without starvation diets and backbreaking exercises when your excess fat is due to thyroid deficiency and you have nothing else the matter with you. Just eat sensibly and take Marmola tablets only according to the recommendations and instructions with the package.
Marmola is not a cure-all. If in doubt at any time about advisability of treatment and for further information as to the properties and effects of the Marmola ingredients, consult a physician.
If you need Marmola, why not lose those ugly uncomfortable pounds the Marmola way. Don't delay. Druggists have sold more than twenty million packages during the past thirty years.

A REAL MAN for A REAL JOB
Let's Nominate Edward Martin for Governor

The governorship of Pennsylvania is a big job, a hard job, a job requiring proven ability, capacity for leadership, and a will to work.

Edward Martin has proven himself in all these elements. His knowledge of state government is surpassed by none and equalled by few. In the next four years Pennsylvania will need a real man for its governor.

Edward Martin is that man. Let's nominate him May 19th as the Republican candidate.

IVOR V. DAVIS, Chairman
Martin for Governor Committee
